SPIRIT OF OLD DAYS.

San Francisco Still Self-Reliant.

Harriman Thinks Her People Will Be Slow to Ask for Alms.

He Promises the Interests He Directs Shall Lead in the Rebuilding.

The Government Still Holds the Harbor Is a Place for Transports.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] E. H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific system, says it is time for deeds, not words. In a signed statement, made today, he adds:

"The rebuilding of San Francisco is a work that concerns not only the people of this city and State, but the nation at large.

"It concerns the national greatness and welfare that San Francisco should arise a grander city than it was before the events of April 18.

"The East, North and South appreciate this, and will meet what calls may be made upon them.

"But if I judge well the temper of the men of affairs of this community, they will be slow to make such calls. I think the self-reliant spirit of '49 still animates them. It has shown itself in the emergency now passing, and a little later, when they have come to view their situation with true perspective, they will show the initiative and resource necessary to meet the great ends they have in view.

"This is time for deeds, not words, but if words will give courage to men of faint hearts, let me say for the interests whose destinies I direct, that it shall be their aim not to follow, but to lead in the work of creation and reconstruction."

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sunday brought a partial suspension of operations in the burned district, but on a number of sites men, teams and donkey engines were at work tearing down walls and removing debris.

Rapid progress is being made in the laying of rails into the devastated area, and during the coming week, the system to be employed in disposing of more than ten million cubic yards of twisted steel and broken brick will have been partially installed.

The wreckage will be carried by means of overhead trolleys to the temporary tracks, and as fast as each site is cleared, its owner will be in a position to commence the erection of a new building.

Without waiting for the assistance of the railroad companies, several owners completed the clearing of their premises during the past week.

CROSS-THE-BAY TRAVEL.

The congestion of street car traffic has been remedied to such an extent that residents of all parts of the city are enabled to reach the ferry depot with some degree of comfort. Hundreds of citizens who have temporarily established their places of business in Oakland are now returning to their homes in the city nightly. The "owl cars," which meet the last boat for the accommodation of these men, are crowded.

STILL A GRAND PORT.

The executive committee of the wholesalers has been informed in a dispatch from Washington that San Francisco will continue to be used as a port by the army transports, in the future as in the past. This news is regarded as especially important, for the reason that since the earthquake, transports ordinarily making this harbor their headquarters have started from or returned to Seattle, and it was feared that this would be continued indefinitely.

NEW LEASES ISSUED.

A number of new leases were reported today. The combined Sloss and Lilienthal properties, at the northeast corner of Van Ness avenue and Pine streets, have been taken by a number of the largest retail merchants for two years. The retailers are to erect temporary buildings.

The firms of Raphael, Weil & Co. of the White House, Newman & Levinson, Davis & Schonwasser, the Hastings Clothing Company, the Nathan-Dorhmann Company, the Koenig Shoe Company, Henry Kahn, Simmer & Kaufmann, P. Centemeri & Co., A. M. Robertson, Brown Bros., W. & J. Sloane & Co., Henry Lyons & Sons, H. Liebes & Co., John R. Kenkel & Co., O'Connor, Moffatt & Co., The Cordes Furniture Company, the Golden Pheasant, Edward Burns, Cooper & Co. and Magnin & Co. will occupy these buildings.

OWL DRUG CO.'S PLACE.

The site purchased by the Congregation Emanuel, on the southwest corner of Van Ness avenue and Sutter street, has been leased for two years to the Owl Drug Company and the Indianapolis Furniture Company. The first-named lessee will put up a two-story building, with a one-story extension, and the other tenant a one-story building.

RUSS HOUSE SITE.

The site of the former Russ House has been placed in the hands of A. J. Kich & Co. for lease, and that firm is negotiating with a prospective tenant, who desires to take the property for fifty years, and erect thereon an eight-story steel frame structure, which shall be taken over by the Russ Estate Company, at the expiration of the lease, on an agreed appraised value.

ZELLERBACH BUILDING.

Work on the $150,000 Zellerbach Building, in the block bounded by Battery, Jackson and Oregon streets, will begin Monday morning. It is to be seven stories high. The steel has arrived on the ground.

MINT LOCATION VALUABLE.

For some time the United States government has had in view the acquisition of more property adjoining the branch mint at the corner of Fifth and Mission streets. When news of the conflagration reached Washington, the Treasury Department suggested to Supt. Lynch that it would be a good opportunity to purchase the property desired. When Lynch made inquiry, he found that a sharp advance had been made on the price. Previous to the fire it could have been bought for $190,000, but now the owners demand $225,000. STOVER.

THE FIRST ACCIDENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—The first accident in connection with the dynamiting of dangerous walls by the engineers of the army occurred today. Smaller quantities of explosives than were used last week are now being fired, and this necessitates two or more charges of dynamite being exploded before the desired result is attained. This morning, the engineers were working in the downtown district. Twice had dynamite been exploded under the facade of a tall ruin and a third charge was being inserted when the wall fell. Three soldiers were buried, but a mass of twisted iron partly shielded them, and only one was seriously hurt.

OFFICIAL REST DAY.

This has been the first day of official rest that the city has had since the beginning of its distress. All of the municipal departments were closed with the exception of the police stations and hospitals, and Franklin Hall, the seat of San Francisco's government, was deserted. The police have had little or nothing to engage their attention.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

Among the churches, the same conditions prevailed as upon the preceding Sunday, open-air services being the rule, even where the buildings were unharmed. At Golden Gate Park, the usual Sunday afternoon concert was given, and was attended by thousands. That the people as a whole are beginning to look for some diversion was shown last night, when a great crowd assembled to witness a vaudeville show in a hall on Fillmore street. The authorities, however, at the last moment, refused to permit a performance.

LIQUOR SELLERS ARRESTED.

Two arrests for selling liquor were made today, and as an indication of the determination to suppress the traffic in intoxicants until the saloons are allowed to reopen, one of the offenders was refused bail and the other's bond was fixed at $5000.

CORNER'S CASES 319.

Coroner Wash, after revising his list of victims of fire and earthquake, informed Gen. Greely that the total number of cases handled by his office was 319, of which 134 were identified and 185 unidentified. This report shows 59 less than given by a previous count.

SIGHTSEEING THRONGS.

The streets of the burned districts were thronged, today, with sightseers. Every train from neighboring towns on the peninsula and every ferryboat from the bay counties was packed with people eager to get their first glimpse of the city's devastation, and almost every third person carried a camera or kodak. In expectation of the crush of people, booths of street fakirs sprang up over night along the curbs on the cleared streets, prepared to furnish refreshments, and most of them enjoyed a profitable trade. In many instances the booths were labeled with the names of former famous hostelries, and the incongruity of "Hot frankfurters, 5 cents," beneath the "Palace Hotel," provoked a smile from each passer-by.

The work of construction and tearing down continued today on all sides notwithstanding the Sabbath. Several hundred frame buildings now appear among the destroyed structures, and foundations are being prepared for as many more. A slow process of taking down standing walls with pick and shovel is being employed by many merchants who are impatient to resume business, but the bulk of this work is being done by stevedores, who are using donkey-engine power to raise the walls.

SARGEANT ROBBINS HURT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—Quartermaster Sergeant Charles H. Robbins, attached to the First Battery of Engineers, stationed at Fort Mason, is the latest victim of the recent calamity. Today, on command of a squad of engineers, he was detailed to raze the dangerous walls at the corner of Turk and Mason streets with dynamite, and shortly before 12 o'clock, with two men, he entered the ruins of the old McCormick Hotel, at No. 30 Turk street. Two charges had been exploded, and the three men were at work placing the third charge under the ruins of the hotel, when suddenly the walls began to topple.

Robbins's companions got clear of the falling wall and escaped with a few bruises, but Robbins was caught under tons of debris. In some miraculous manner an iron beam fell over him in such a position as to act as a shield, and a portion of the railing of the fire escape dropped as a sort of cage-like protection over him.

For fully one hour and a half the police and soldiers in the vicinity labored in order to release the imprisoned and mangled soldier. He was hurriedly taken to the General Hospital at the Presidio, where his wounds were pronounced dangerous, but not necessarily fatal.

ZULUS ATTACK MANSELL'S TROOP.

BRITISH BEAT THEM BACK AND KILL SIXTY.

Armed With Rifles and Assegais and Drugged by Their Witch Doctors to Be "Impervious to Bullets" the Black Horde Displays Desperate Fury—Three Whites Wounded.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DURBAN (Natal) May 6.—Col. Mansell's column, which is pursuing the Zulu rebel chief, Bambaata, was attacked today by 200 Zulus, while descending a precipitous hill near the grave of Cetewayo. Sixty Zulus were killed. Col. Mansell had three men wounded.

Mansell was engaged in a reconnoissance from Fort Yolland. He was cooperating with other columns in expelling the rebels from a forest, with a view to cutting Bambaata off from escape. He thought the Zulu attackers were Bambaata's men. They numbered altogether over a thousand men, and attempted to employ the crescent formation adopted by the Zulus in war. Only Col. Mansell's prompt disposition of his forces prevented disaster.

The Zulus displayed desperate fury. They were armed with rifles and assegais, and evidently had been drugged by witch doctors, who pretend to be able to render them impervious to bullets.

ROSEWATER FOR SENATOR.

His Candidacy Is Announced by His Paper, While He Is Absent in Rome.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OMAHA, May 6.—The candidacy of Edward Rosewater, proprietor of the Omaha Bee for the Republican nomination of United States Senator, at the coming State Republican convention, will be announced in the Bee in a signed article by his son, Victor Rosewater, managing editor.

Rosewater, Sr., is at present in Rome as the official representative of the United States at the Universal Postal Congress. He has been a leader of his party in this State for many years.

THREE PEOPLE SHOT BY TENNESSEE MOB.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) May 6.—Marvin Winters was shot and killed and Thomas Stewart and his young daughter severely wounded, during an attack by a mob on Stewart's home, near Pleasant View, Cheatham county, last night. No reason for the attack is known.

A few days ago, Stewart received a letter, warning him that if he and his family did not leave the neighborhood within ten days, they would all be killed.

About 11 o'clock Saturday night, a mob surrounded Stewart's house and opened fire on it. Stewart and his daughter were wounded. Stewart returned the shots and the mob scattered.

This morning, the body of Marvin Winters was found about fifty yards from Stewart's home. The shot that killed Winters came from a gun of larger caliber than Stewart's, and today Jim Hunt, Eph Boyle and Newton Winters were arrested, charged with complicity in the murder of Winters.

HORROR AT MOSCOW.

Doubasoff Is Injured by a Bomb.

Governor-General Assailed on Returning from Church to His Palace.

Face and an Arm of His Aide Are Torn Off, and a Sentry Killed.

Missile Fails to Hit the Carriage—Mutilates Thrower, a Student.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, May 6.—A bomb was thrown at the carriage of Vice-Admiral Doubasoff, Governor-General of Moscow, as he was being driven to the palace today. He was wounded in the foot, and his aide de camp and a sentry were killed.

The man who threw the bomb is also reported killed. He wore an officer's uniform.

Access to the palace is barred.

Gov. Doubasoff was returning in an open carriage from the Uspenski Cathedral, and the outrage took place outside of the carriage entrance to his palace. Several bystanders were injured.

CHANGED HIS ROUTE.

According to the route decided upon in advance, the Governor-General should have returned to the palace by the side entrance, but during the drive he changed his route, and thereby ran into the peril he was seeking to avoid.

ASSASSIN'S THROW.

Vice-Admiral Doubasoff's life was saved by the poor aim of his would-be assassin. The bomb exploded on the pavement, several paces to the rear of his carriage, hurling the mutilated corpse of the terrorist several yards backward, and tearing off an arm and the face of an aide who was descending from the carriage.

Gov.-Gen. Doubasoff was thrown from his carriage and under the horse's heels. His back was burned and his leg bruised, but he was able to walk unassisted into the palace. The coachman's skull was fractured, and he was taken to a hospital.

SUPPOSED IDENTITY.

It is thought the assassin was the student in whose rooms a bomb exploded Saturday, killing three accomplices, but who, at the time, was watching the palace from a room in the hotel opposite.

A MARKED MAN.

Vice-Admiral Doubasoff was appointed Governor-General of Moscow in December last. He is also an aide to the Emperor and a member of the Council of the Empire. Since his appointment as Governor-General, several plots against him have been uncovered. Almost immediately after he had taken office he incurred the enmity of the revolutionists, who entered into a conspiracy to abduct him, but this failed.

In January, he was advised that an attempt would be made at the celebration of the ceremony of blessing the waters to assassinate him. As a result, Prince Kosaviosta was arrested, charged with being an accessory to the conspiracy.

BOMB IN HER HAIR.

In March, a bolder attempt on Doubasoff's life was frustrated by the arrest of a woman who had actually invaded the palace. She gained admittance on the plea that she had come from a personal friend of the Governor-General. Her action in the chancellory attracted the attention of an aide. He noticed particularly the luxuriance of the woman's hair which was worn in a high coiffure. Investigation alarmed her, and she attempted to flee, but she was seized and searched, and a small bomb was found concealed in her hair.

KILLED BY SIX.

EKATERINOSLAV, May 6.—The Governor-General of Ekaterinoslav was assassinated, Saturday evening, by six unknown persons, who fired volleys from revolvers at him and escaped.

BATTLESHIP COMES OFF.

The Rhode Island Is Floated at High Tide and Anchors in York Harbor.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NORFOLK (Va.) May 6.—The battleship Rhode Island was floated at high tide, tonight, after being aground on York Spot bar since yesterday morning. It was due to the efforts of four powerful naval tugs, the Uncas, Wahnetka, Hercules and Mohawk, that the big warship was drawn from the sand bar.

The Rhode Island then dropped anchor in the mouth of the York River.

MISSOURI COULD "SHOW" CALIFORNIA A QUAKE.

Historic Relic Preserved at Denver in the Grant of Land by President Monroe to Sufferers by the Terrific Shake-up in the New Madrid Country.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Col. W. W. Ferguson, custodian of the War Relics Museum at the Capitol Building, is displaying conspicuously a reminder of earthquakes elsewhere than in California. The exhibition is an old document to which is affixed the genuine signature of James Monroe, and it conveyed a tract of land under an act of Congress, passed in 1815, for the relief of earthquake sufferers in Missouri. The grant follows in part:

"The United States of America.

"To all to whom these presents shall come, Greeting. Know ye that there has been deposited in the General Land Office a certificate numbered Three Hundred and Forty-four of the Recorder of land titles at St. Louis, Missouri, whereby it appears that in pursuance of the Act of Congress passed on the Seventeenth day of February, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Fifteen, entitled an act for the relief of the inhabitants of the late county of New Madrid, in the Missouri Territory, who suffered by earthquakes,

"That Jesse Devoir, or his legal representatives, have located a tract of land containing six hundred and forty acres, being the northwest, northeast and southwest quarters of section twenty-seven, and the northwest quarter of section thirty-four, township fifty-two, north of the base line, in range number sixteen west of the fifth principal meridian, being survey number two thousand four hundred and forty-one.

"There is therefore granted by the United States unto the said Jesse Devoir or his legal representatives and his or their heirs the tract of land above described, to have and to hold the said tract, with the appurtenances, unto the said Jesse Devoir or his legal representatives and his or their heirs forever.

"Given under my hand at the City of Washington, the Ninth day of June, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Twenty-four, and of the independence of the United States the Forty-eighth.

[Signed] "JAMES MONROE."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. JOHN, (N. F.) May 6.—Public sentiment throughout the colony strongly supports the Cabinet's aggressive naction against the American fishermen, while from views expressed in government circles, it appears that the Premier has the endorsement of the British government, which believes the restrictive measures proposed are within the colony's legal rights.

The government will employ whaling vessels in addition to revenue cruisers in enforcing the Bait Act against American fishing vessels. The now Foreign Fishing Vessels Bill is expected to pass the upper house of the Legislature tomorrow. Both houses will be prorogued Wednesday.

ITALY'S POSTAL BANQUET.

ROME, May 6.—King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena tonight gave a dinner in honor of the delegates to the International Postal Congress. Edward Rosewater of Omaha and Capt. N. B. Brooks, superintendent of the United States postoffice, attended.

ELECTIONS IN FRANCE

Early Returns Show Few Changes.

Extraordinary Number of Second Ballots Will Be Needed in Paris.

Opposition Has a Majority Which Supplemental Votes Later May Offset.

Government Gains in Provinces—Good Humor Prevalent—Plotters Out.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, May 6.—The results thus far announced in the general Parliamentary elections, which were held today, show few changes in the Chamber, most of the former deputies being reëlected, but an extraordinary number of second ballots will be necessary in Paris.

The present ballot gives the opposition a majority, but the second ballot, which will be taken May 20, is expected to reproduce the results of the 1902 election, when the representation of the capital was equally divided. Nevertheless the government has gained one seat.

A RECORD POLL.

It is estimated that there was a record poll of votes. Owing to the excitement, caused by the recent strike and the disorders occasioned by taking inventories of church property, the polling booths were guarded by military and police, but the day passed practically without incident, and intervention by the authorities was unnecessary.

Great crowds have surrounded the Hotel de Ville, the Ministry of the Interior and the newspaper offices, where the results of the voting were posted, cheering or hooting when the returns of popular candidates were announced. The success of prominent men, such as MM. Briand, Pressense, Miller and Lockroy, Millevoys and Admiral Bienaime was greeted with enthusiasm. Marcel Habert, director of the League of Patriots, was defeated.

GOOD HUMOR PREVALENT.

Police and cavalry patrols prevented demonstrations by the disorderly element, and good humor was generally prevalent.

PROVINCES LOYAL.

Provincial returns display an unexpectedly favorable tendency toward the government, whose supporters have captured no fewer than eighteen seats, against a loss of only two. Including Paris, 411 results are known. Of these the government captured 188 seats and the opposition 112, while 111 will require second baliots. The net gain to the government is sixteen seats.

MM. Doumer, President of the Chamber of Deputies; Clementet, former Minister of the Colonies; Leigues, Minister of the Colonies in the Sarrien Cabinet; Lasies, the anti-Semite leader; Doumergue, Minister of Commerce; Pelletan, former Minister of Marine; Brisson, former president of the Chamber, and the Duke de Briogli were all reëlected.

"PLOTTERS" RELEASED.

All the persons arrested recently for connection with the alleged Royalist plot against the security of the republic have been provisionally released.

Among those taken into custody as a result of a series of wholesale searches designed to unearth an extensive plot against the security of the republic were M. Griffuelhes, the virtual head of the Confederation of Labor; Leon Robert, secretary of a branch of the Confederation; Count de Beauregard, who was alleged to be at the head of the plot against the government; Maj. Feuillant, formerly commander of the Imperial Guard, and M. Filbert, editor of the Imperial Journal, L'Autorite.

AROUND THE HORN.

BOSTON (Mass.) May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The new fishing steamer Manhattan, owned by the New England Fish Company, started on a 15,000-mile voyage to Vancouver today, around the Horn, with stops at Norfolk, Rio de Janeiro, Valparaiso, Callao and San Francisco. She is expected to make the run in seventy days. She will make the third steamer sent to the Pacific by the New England Fish Company. She is 142 feet long, 24 feet beam and 134 tons net.

MEXICO AND THE QUAKE.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 6.—The law students and theatrical people of this city are organizing fetes, the proceeds of which will be forwarded to San Francisco for the relief of the earthquake and fire sufferers there. Mme. Diaz, wife of the President of the republic, will act as patroness of those entertainments.

KILL FOURTEEN BULGARIANS.

SALONICA (European Turkey) May 6.—Turkish troops, Saturday, exterminated a band of fourteen Bulgarians at Loyodja, near Kluprili. The Turks had two men killed.

Czar on the Way to Deadlock the Convention.

Government May Co-operate in Agrarian Project.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, May 6.—Fourteen revolutionists who are believed to be members of the supreme tribunal of the fighting organization were arrested at a meeting here yesterday. This is the organization whose sentences have spread terror among officials in all parts of Russia. The police also captured records of condemnations and a list of death sentences which have not yet been executed.

In a room adjoining that where the meeting was being held, the police discovered fragments of the bodies of three persons who had been killed by the accidental explosion of bombs.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 6.—The National Assembly of Russia, on which so many hopes for the future of that country are pinned, will be convened at the Tauride Palace Thursday, May 10.

The National Assembly, or Douma, was granted by the Emperor August 13, 1905, and, according to the official announcement, "is established for the preliminary study and definition of legislative propositions, which, according to the fundamental laws, go up through the Council of the Empire to the supreme autocratic authorities."

EFFECTIVE DEADLOCK.

The composition of the Council of the Empire, or "upper house," one-half appointed by the Emperor and one-half selected from the nobility and clergy, would seem sufficiently probable to deadlock the Douma, should there be any opposition to the crown.

INNOCENT LOOKING "JOKER."

The manifesto issued March 6, 1906, was an innocent looking provision, placing beyond the jurisdiction of Parliament and consigning for consideration to commissions of the Council of the Empire, the reports of the Minister of Finance, charges of malfeasance against officials of the government, the establishment of stock companies with especial privileges and relating to entailed estates of nobility, etc.

CAN DO THE DOUMA.

The government retains the power to promulgate "temporary" laws during the recesses of Parliament, and as the Parliament is subject to dissolution by imperial ukase, the government is in a position, in time of stress, to rid itself of any obnoxious legislation and proclaim such laws as it deems necessary.

Three hundred and seventy-one members have been elected to the assembly, of which the Constitutional Democrats have a clear working majority.

AGRARIAN COMBINE.

The first and all-important matter to come up will be the agrarian problem, and recent dispatches from St. Petersburg seem to indicate that the government will work in accord with the assembly in this matter, by proposing the formation of a Parliamentary commission to elaborate plans for an agrarian project. This will practically mean the acceptance of the decision of the Constitutional Democrats.

DELEGATES POURING IN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, May 6.—The members of the National Parliament and the Council of the Empire are arriving here on every train. Quite a number of distinguished foreign visitors and journalists already have reached St. Petersburg, to witness Thursday's great historic event—the inauguration of the Russian Parliament.

The fears that the government will attempt to dissolve the Parliament before it has the opportunity of accomplishing anything are vanishing, and despite the bomb outrage at Moscow today, and the continued irreconcilable attitude of the extreme revolutionists, there is a more hopeful feeling that Russia may enter smoothly into parliamentary life. This is due not only to the moderate attitude of the Democratic majority, whose leaders, with admirable restraint, are holding the extremists among them in check, but the manifest desire of the government is to avoid a conflict.

HANDS-OFF POLICY.

The new Cabinet has announced a policy of hands off, practically saying that the Parliament shall have carte blanche, and so long as it does not attempt to meddle with the fundamental laws of the empire, the Parliament will be allowed to offer its own solution of the crying agrarian problem.

With this attitude of the government, if it is sincerely carried out, the Constitutional Democrats for the present are content. They will wait for final victory, when the Emperor will be forced to grant a constitution, which time, they believe, is not far off.

A WISE LEADER.

The Associated Press representative talked today with M. Nabokoff, leader of the Constitutional Democrats, who said frankly that his party had no desire at present to have a Premier and Cabinet, even if it could. Such responsibility would place it upon the defensive, while, by remaining in opposition, with the country behind it, the chances of forcing a complete surrender were increased instead of being diminished.

The little group of Socialists of the Extreme Left has not yet shown its hand, but with the Constitutional Democrats, who have a clear working majority, it will be powerless to force a conflict. The Octoberists, in the center, are a negligible quantity, and with the present temper at Tsarskoe Selo, this small group of reactionists in the Parliament sings low.

STATE POMP.

The ceremonies at the Winter Palace here, when the Emperor will deliver the speech from the throne, have been arranged with all the glitter and pomp of a state function. The idea of an informal opening in order to diminish the importance of the position of the Parliament has been abandoned. The entire imperial family, with the ladies and gentlemen of the court, the former in the national Russian costumes and the latter in court dress, aide-de-camps, ministers, generals and officers of the guard regiments, marshals of the nobility and such governors-general and military commanders of the army corps as are in St. Petersburg, the mayors and city councils of St. Petersburg and Moscow and members of the Holy Synod are commanded to attend. The chiefs of missions were invited by an imperial order, which was issued today.

THE PARADE.

The members of the Parliament will assemble in the beautiful Nicholas Hall; the Council of the Empire at the Hermitage Pavilion, and the others at the Armorial, Field Marshal's and other halls, and march in state to the great Hall of St. George, a magnificent pillared chamber fifty yards long and twenty-five yards wide, where the Emperor, from the throne, will address the Parliament and Council of the Empire, which will return respectively to the Tauride Palace and the Hall of Nobles, where the formal openings of the Parliament will take place.

MODERATE DEMOCRATS' VICTORY

The Moderates carried every feature of the programme before the Constitutional Democrat Congress today, by adopting the project of party organization, which places both the control of the policy of the party and the tactics of the party in the hands of the congress and its executive arm, the executive committee. This project was introduced Saturday, and was bitterly fought by the extremist wing of the party.

The deputies spent most of the day discussing their tactics for agitation in the country, and at the evening session the agrarian programme, fixing the maximum size of farms, the redistribution through government agency of lands exceeding this maximum, etc., was introduced. The Radicals immediately attacked this, demanding the nationalization and socialization of all lands.

CHEERED ASSASSINS.

A feature of the session was the picturesque scene when the news was received of the attempt upon the life of Gov.-Gen. Doubasoff at Moscow. It was then supposed that the attempt had been successful. The convention took a recess, and cheered the assassin's deed for ten minutes. During the evening, news also was received of the assassination of the Governor of Elizabethpol, in revenge for his repressions in the Caucasus.

MONKISH DELEGATES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, May 6.—The monkish black clergy today elected as representatives to the Council of the Empire, Antonius, Metropolitan of St. Petersburg; Archbishop Dimitri of Odessa, and Archbishop Antonius of Jitomir.

GAPON "NOT LYNCHED."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, May 6.—"Father Gapon has not been lynched by Russian anarchists. On the other hand, he is in Switzerland, alive and well, as I positively know," said Ivan Ivanoich Narodny in an address before a Socialist gathering on the North Side this afternoon.

Narodny came to this country with Maxim Gorky, and was substituted for Gorky as the speaker at the Socialist meeting on account of Gorky's illness. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Industrial Workers of the World, as a protest against the arrest of Haywood and Moyer. Narodny added that, only last Monday, a mutual friend in Washington had received a cablegram from Gapon.

THE CZAR'S INTENTION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, May 7.—The Times correspondent at St. Petersburg says he is able to state positively that Emperor Nicholas intends to select future ministers from the National Parliament, and that the Goremykin ministry is merely transitional.

GOOD BILLET FOR WITTE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, May 7.—The Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent says it is reported that Count Witte may be appointed Russian Ambassador to Paris.

HEROES OF JAPAN.

The Mikado Recognizes the Services of His Fighting Men—Oyama Takes His Ease.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) May 6.—Advices were received by the steamer Athenian, which arrived last night from Japan and China, of the retirement of Marquis Oyama from the post of field marshal and chief of the Japanese headquarters staff, he being succeeded by Viscount Kodama, recently promoted from a baronetcy and lieutenant-general.

Admiral Togo will shortly be made a count, because of his service during the war. Viscount Kodama will be further promoted, and be made a count. Count Nodzu will become a marquis and Generals Kuroki, Oku, Nogi and Kawamura, who were recently appointed to command the Tokio district, will be created viscounts.

An assemblage of lieutenant-generals in command of divisions of the Japanese army has been convened by the Minister of War to discuss proposed army reforms.

HUBBARD'S HONOR LEGION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Elbert Hubbard, editor of the Philistine, a noted Roycrofter and author, is planning an American Legion of Honor. In the first place he has suggested Luther Burbank, the California wizard, and for the second place, Judge Ben B. Lindsey, the juvenile expert of Denver. He believes Burbank is the greatest man in the nation and Lindsey next.

Hubbard will call a convention at his home, East Aurora, N. Y., and a committee will report on the names he has suggested. President Roosevelt is not in the list.

Hubbard was born in Bloomington, Ill., in 1859.

AUTOMOBILE WRECKED.

Gifford Cochran's Party Collides With Truck Horses and He Is Seriously Injured.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, May 6.—In an automobile accident today, in Broadway Park near White Plains, N. Y., Gifford Cochran, a carpet manufacturer of Yonkers, was seriously injured. The automobile collided with a truck, the horses of which were killed. In Cochran's party were Joseph Pulitzer, Jr., Mrs. Cochran, Miss Sally D. Dixon and George G. Simpson, the chauffeur.

Although the car was completely wrecked and the occupants thrown out, only Cochran was seriously hurt.

WASHINGTON.

GREAT WEEK IN CONGRESS.

Senate About to Vote on the Railroad Rate Bill.

Democrats Will Not Attempt to Stand Together.

Important Changes Expected. Big House Measures.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Practically all the members of the United States Senate agree in predicting that the present week will see the end of the discussion on the Railroad Rate Bill. The fact that its provisions are accepted by the conservative Senatorial leaders on the one hand and by the President on the other, renders it practically certain that the amendment will in the end be accepted as a party measure, and that it will receive most, if not all, of the votes of Republican Senators. The Democrats will probably content themselves with expressing surprise that the bill should be transformed into a party measure, and then, after chaffing their opponents, will let the votes be taken, each man voting according to his own personal views.

The consideration of the bill will proceed in accordance with the unanimous agreement, the measure being considered section by section, and each section disposed of in order. The proceedings last Friday, the only day on which the Senate has been in session under the agreement, indicated that there is little prospect of any general change in the measure.

IMPORTANT CHANGES.

It seems probable that changes may be made, giving the commission power to compel trunk lines to make connection with other lines and prohibiting the transportation companies from engaging in the production of commodities. Amendments for the accomplishment of both these purposes will be urged, and so far, comparatively little opposition to them has been developed.

COURT REVIEW ISSUE.

Opinions differ as to the length of time that may be required for the conclusion of the work on the bill, and the estimates vary all the way from Wednesday until Saturday. The principal debate will be on the question of court review, which will probably be reached by Tuesday. After that is disposed of, there will be little heart left for anything else, and whatever may be offered will most likely be acted upon after comparatively little discussion.

AFTER-THOUGHTS.

There are as yet no plans for taking up other measures after the railroad bill shall have been disposed of, but it is expected that some of the appropriation bills will be ready for consideration by that time. The discussion of the nomination of Mr. Barnes, assistant secretary to the President, as postmaster of Washington, will also proceed when opportunity affords.

HOUSE AND NAVY.

The national House of Representatives will complete the Naval Appropriation Bill this week. If the Foreign Affairs Committee can get the Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation Bill ready in time, action also may be taken on that measure.

The reading of the naval bill is expected to occupy the House Tuesday, Wednesday, and possibly Thursday. Should there be an unoccupied time, however, there are two special orders already on the calendar, and the immigration bill is to constitute the third, if the present plan succeeds to give it that status by the passage of a resolution today. Pure-food legislation has the right of way, after appropriation bills, and next, the bill creating a uniform system of naturalization.

RAILS AND OIL.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, May 10, will begin one of the most thorough inquiries that has ever been instituted into the relations between the railroads and the Standard Oil Company. Special counsel has been engaged and hundreds of subpoenas issued. Independent oil refiners have been summoned, and the commission will make as drastic an investigation as possible.

THE PRESIDENT'S VIEWS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The President today reiterated his views on railroad rate legislation in a telegram sent to the Executive Committee of the Pennsylvania State Grange. The telegram follows:

"WASHINGTON, May 6.—W. F. Hill and Members Executive Committee, Pennsylvania State Grange: Telegram received. I am happy to tell you that not only am I standing on my original position, as regards rate legislation, but it seems likely that Congress will take this position, too. The Hepburn Bill meets my views, as I have from the beginning stated. The Allison amendment is only declaratory of what the Hepburn Bill must mean, supposing it to be unconstitutional, and no genuine friend of the bill can object to it without stultifying himself.

"In addition, I shall be glad to get certain amendments, such as those known as the Long and Overman amendments, but they are not vital, and even without them the Hepburn Bill, with the Allison amendment, contains practically exactly what I have both originally and always since asked for, and if enacted into law it will represent the longest step ever yet taken in the direction of solving the railroad-rate problem.

BOARD OF CIVIC ART.

NEW CENSORSHIP FAVORED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Glenn Brown, secretary of the Public Art League of the United States, has issued a plea for support of the Wiley bill, now pending in the House, which provides for the creation of a National Advisory Board on Civic Art.

If this bill is enacted into law, the President will nominate five members, who shall be confirmed by the Senate, and the board, when requested by the Senate or House or committees thereof, or by Cabinet officers, or the President, or the Commissioners of the District of Columbia shall consider and report their opinion on the artistic merit of plans proposed by legislative or administrative act for public buildings, monuments or fountains, mural paintings or the opening, modification or embellishment of any public space belonging to the United States.

MONEY FOR GEN. GREELY.

Secretary Taft Places at His Disposal About Three Hundred Thousand Dollars.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Following representations made to the War Department by Gen. Greely, commanding the Department of the Pacific, Secretary Taft has placed at the disposal of that department an amount approximating $300,000 of the relief fund appropriated by Congress for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers.

With this fund Gen. Greely will pay for supplies already purchased and others which are needed and for fresh meat, which, he says, is indispensable. Supplies heretofore issued, including the tents from the quartermaster's stores, etc., and which had been charged against this department, will be returned to the army, and are available for future use.

ADVERTISING FACTS.

The growth of the Los Angeles Times has been sure and steady. Shrewd advertisers and the discriminating public will draw their own conclusions from the following figures:

The total amount of bona fide paid advertising printed in The Times for the months of January, February, March and April, 1906, was .... 19,607 columns
As against .... 15,527 columns
For the corresponding months, 1905. Gain.... 4080 columns

The advertising in the other five Los Angeles dailies for the months of January, February, March and April, 1906, combined amounted to .... 28,940 columns

These figures show that the Los Angeles Times printed nearly 70 per cent. as much advertising as the other five city newspapers combined for the months named.

"Green-eyed" contemporaries are invited to sit up and take notice of the foregoing figures.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago shivered today from the effects of a sudden drop in temperature that carried the mercury within a few degrees of the freezing point and nearly justified the weather man's prediction of frost. Balmy weather is the promise for tomorrow. The low mark reached today was 40 degs., and the maximum temperature was 59. Middle West temperatures:

MRS. H. H. HONORE DEAD.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carr Honoré, wife of Henry H. Honoré, died tonight. Mrs. Honoré, who was over 80 years of age and had been a resident of Chicago since 1857, was mother of Mrs. Potter Palmer, recognized as a social leader of Chicago, and Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, wife of the son of the former President of the United States. She was born in Lexington, Ky., and when 20 years old figured in a romantic double wedding, she and her sister marrying brothers. Her husband was Henry H. Honoré, while her sister married Benjamin Honoré. By the marriage of her granddaughter, Miss Julia Grant, to Count Cantacuzene, Mrs. Honoré became great-grandmother of the heir to a Russian estate and title.

AUSTRALIA'S TROUBLES.

"Australia would be a prosperous and happy land, but for the domination of labor legislation, which drives capital from the country," said E. Vickrey, member of the Australian Parliament, who is here on his way to Washington in company with his wife, a sister of Senator Thomas M. Patterson of Colorado. Vickrey has lived in Australia sixty years, and says he has seen a happy and prosperous population pass gradually under the control of a band of labor union demagogues, until today the country is being deserted by capital and hundreds of men are walking the streets seeking a chance to earn a livelihood.

FAITHFUL DOG'S ALARM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Missing his master, a faithful dog traced his footsteps to the banks of the River Iowa, near North Liberty, and then gave the alarm that his master was drowned.

"BRIGHT EYES" PORTRAIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BLOOMINGTON (Ill.) May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Bright Eyes," a spirit child grown to a man and whose alleged adult picture, painted in oil, hung in the home of the late J. T. Crumbaugh, the wealthy banker of Leroy, is a remarkable feature of the trial in the McLean county Circuit Court, in which the relatives of Crumbaugh are seeking to break the will, in which he left $250,000 to the cult of Spiritualism. It was argued that the picture itself was sufficient to demonstrate that the mind of Crumbaugh was affected. A son was born to Crumbaugh in 1864, but died at the age of 6.

TRADE WITH BRAZIL.

EXPORTS HAVE FALLEN OFF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, May 6.—A bulletin issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor says that trade of the United States with Brazil aggregates in round numbers $110,000,000, a larger sum than any country in South America. Imports from Brazil for the fiscal year 1905 aggregated $99,483,904, and exports were $10,895,096. The bulletin says the total exports to Brazil show a falling off from $15,165,079 in 1895 to $10,985,996 in 1905, the decrease occurring chiefly in provisions.

THE COMING BRILLIANT FIESTA.

THE special Fiesta Number of The Times will be issued the day following the close of the celebration, which is now definitely announced to begin on the 21st of this month. The Fiesta will be greater and grander than ever. Floats for the night parades, already completed, are the handsomest ever constructed for any fete in the United States, and entries for the floral parade are unusually numerous and promise to be really magnificent.

Citizens who have the interest of this great young city at heart will now put their shoulders to the wheel and make the forthcoming Fiesta de las Flores the grandest, the biggest and the best ever! It is a celebration that will redound to the credit of all Southern California and of its progressive citizens.

HEAD OF HESS CUT IN TWO.

San Francisco Youth Killed by Fall from Train.

John Pratt, His Comrade, Has Skull Fractured.

Fire at North Yakima. Cruiser to Honolulu.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN RAFAEL, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As a result of a fall from a Sausalito electric train this evening, Jesse Hess occupies a slab at the morgue with his head almost cut in two, and John Pratt is at the Marion County Hospital, with a fractured skull.

Hess, who lives at No. 1531 Octavia street, San Francisco, has been operated on, and his chance for recovery is said to be fair.

According to Pratt, who was a son of Sheriff Pratt of the California Democratic delegation to the San Francisco. The two men were standing on the platform of the 4:35 p. m. north-bound train.

As the train neared a tunnel both men were warned to get inside the car. They did not heed the trainman's warning, and later they were picked up beside the track and brought here. Pratt supposed they lost their balance through the swaying of the train. Hess died shortly after arrived only four hours.

CRUISER TO HONOLULU.

DESTINATION NOT DISCLOSED.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
MARE ISLAND, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The cruiser Marblehead is believed to be rapidly prepared for a mysterious trip to Honolulu, and will sail Wednesday night.

Orders for her departure were received from Admiral Goodrich Saturday morning. A message from Washington. Yesterday morning the Marblehead left Mare Island, where she is to go into dock and also take in a full coal.

Admiral Goodrich said he had no knowledge of the Marblehead's mission, the fact that she is bound for Honolulu so far as known, there is no other nor any expected trouble on the island port.

CHARGES OF GOLD DUST.

CLERK ASSAYER INDICTED.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]
SEATTLE (Wash.) May 6.—George Wilkins, former employé of the assay office at Seattle, was indicted by the Federal grand jury for embezzlement under 153 counts. The amount of defalcation reported by the assayer is $45,056, and the counts charge the theft of gold dust in sixty-four. Each theft is alleged from two to ten counts. The embezzlement by Adams in other cities, such as cashier, is said to an officer of the mint and as an individual, in addition of these positions. The indictment assumes ownership of the gold stolen, and also refers to showing the stolen gold having been simply in the custody of Adams for the depositors. He is to be arraigned Monday.

FLOODING CACHE CREEK.

TOWNS IN PERIL.
[BY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WOODLAND, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Serious danger threatens the towns along Cache Creek in Yolo county. Three days ago, a mass of soil on a mountain side and completely filled the creek, and enough water has dammed up to flood the country for miles around. Early today the water was beginning to flow over the top of the dam, and there is every indication that it will sweep away the obstruction and cause serious damage.

Citizens have arranged for a watch so that the city of Woodland may receive at least six hours' warning of the approach of the flood. The danger is also being rapidly increased by repairs that may be needed after the waters have subsided.

TOWNS IN DANGER.

Cache Creek is in immediate danger are Capay, a population of something like 100 persons, with a population of 500; Guinda, with a population of 200, and Capay Valley. The inhabitants of these towns are so far aware of the possible danger that they have abandoned their homes and removed their household effects to the contents of the stores and hillsides, where they are guarding their families.

MRS. KELLY'S SUICIDE.

CLERK TAKES POISON.
[BY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
OAKLAND, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Howard Kelly, night clerk at the Union, committed suicide early today by taking carbolic acid. He was found on Meade street near the river, by two little girls and a policeman.

Kelly was about 40 years of age, and had been employed by the Western Pacific for years. When he left home he remarked to fellow-employés, "I look blue?" No motive for the suicide is known other than this.

BRIEF BRIEFS.

Schooner Adrift.

SAN DIEGO, May 6.—A long raft, consisting of lumber, which left here Wednesday, in tow of the steamer Francis H. Leggett, is adrift. The Leggett encountered a gale, and her hawsers parted. At last reports the raft was about twenty miles southwest of Crescent City.

SAN DIEGO, May 6.—According to reports in charge of Co. B, N. G. C., on duty here since the fire, it is likely that the soldiers will be ordered to perform patrol duty for a month to come. Co. B is in San Francisco.

"SOUTH OF THE TEHACHEPI."

NEWS SUMMARY OF THE SOUTHERN COUNTIES.

Since the seismic disturbance in the north, many strange creatures of the sea are being taken in southern waters. At Venice yesterday an octopus and four sharks were hauled up on the beach.

Ocean Park is rushing work on the big new auditorium, which it hopes to open on July 1.

The Santa Barbara County Walnut Growers' Association has elected its officers for the ensuing year and is planning for the marketing of the coming crop.

The killing of Michael Renahan at San Bernardino Saturday night is attributed to a chance shot fired by several fighting Mexicans.

Ontario is taking up the project of a new High School building, now that Upland has decided to incorporate.

Long Beach is being gayly decorated in the colors of La Fiesta, in anticipation of the coming of the Shriners. The big auditorium and all the main streets are to be decorated with pennants and bunting, and a special programme of music will be rendered, on the occasion of the Shriners' visit to that beach, by the Royal Italian Band.

A well-known mining man who has returned to Pasadena from the desert reports that there are many more rattlesnakes than usual on the arid lands east of San Bernardino, where he has been prospecting.

Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of the Stanford University, will next month deliver the commencement address at the Pasadena High School.

JAPAN ORGANIZES NATIONAL FORCES.

REFORMS IN MILITARY SERVICE ARE PROJECTED.

Railroads to Be Constructed in Korea and Manchuria—Mounted Infantry Under Consideration for Disorganization—Programme of Expansion for the Navy.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) May 6.—The Jiji Shimbun outlines Japanese reforms relating to the field and mountain artillery and the transport corps and changes of cavalry and artillery, including the organization of horse artillery. Other reforms expected are the building of railroads in Korea and Manchuria, increase of arsenals, increase of railway corps, and organizing of a balloon corps.

The Nichi Nichi says the organization of mounted infantry will also be destroyed, although approval is uncertain, as the training of troops for this service could not be accomplished in the shortened period now fixed for service. The third period of Japanese naval expansion, now commenced, will result in increasing the Japanese navy by 90,000 tons before the end of the year.

The third programme of expansion started with the building of the 18,000-ton battleships, Katori and Kashima, just completed in England, and the armored cruisers, Tsukuba and Ikoma, of 14,000 tons, just launched in Japan; the Kurama, ready in August, the Ikubto, to be soon laid down, and the 19,000-ton battleship Aki, will shortly be ordered. Four dispatch boats and twenty-eight destroyers will also be ordered.

The Japanese courts, now closed, confiscated forty-nine ships, thirty-three with cargoes, five with part cargoes, and eleven without cargoes. Fifteen ships have been ordered sold, and spirited bidding is promised from four Japanese shipping companies and several foreign companies.

BERESFORD'S BOATS.

LONDON, May 6.—A dispatch to a news agency says that the British fleet under Vice-Admiral Lord Charles Beresford has arrived in Phaleron Bay.

FARMERS ON RATE BILL.

Pennsylvania's Grange Members Beseech President for "Square Deal."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HARRISBURG (Pa.) May 6.—The Legislative Committee of the Pennsylvania State Grange at a meeting here last night, formulated the following telegram to the President:

"We, the Legislative Committee of the Pennsylvania State Grange, in behalf of our organization, beseech you to stand true to your original position on rate legislation. We pledge you the united support of 60,000 members to this end, and hope to win a 'square deal.'"

FLASHES FROM WIRES.

The Board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at yesterday's session of their semi-annual meeting, took definite action toward furnishing relief to Methodist institutions in California which were damaged by the earthquake. Bishop John W. Hamilton of San Francisco was empowered to appoint a committee of five men to procure aid from Methodists throughout the world. An effort will be made by this committee to obtain $750,000 to make up for losses.

President D. J. Keefe of the International Longshoremen, Marine and Transport Workers' Association, who is directing the marine strike on the Great Lakes, left last night, supposedly for Cleveland. It is presumed that his hurried trip is occasioned by reports that the strikers at Lake Erie ports were showing an inclination to return to work and leave the union mates, over which the sympathetic strike was declared, to shift for themselves.

The American Reserve Bond Company, which has been thrown into the receivership of the Western Trust and Savings Bank, will be able to pay back to its investors between 35 and 50 per cent. according to estimates arrived at.

At Dayton, O., the jury in the lunacy inquiry into the sanity of Dr. Oliver C. Haugh returned a verdict yesterday declaring him sane. Haugh is under sentence to go to the electric chair, having been convicted of the murder of his father, mother and brother and the burning of their home.

The army transport Logan will make all necessary repairs and take supplies at San Francisco, sailing from that port May 25, as originally scheduled. Quartermaster-General Humphrey advised the Military Secretary that he is assured all supplies for the Logan's round trip can be had in San Francisco and repairs can be made without delay.

No further steps will be taken to fix the responsibility for the fire on the battleship Kearsarge April 12, which resulted in ten deaths. In an opinion handed down by Advocate-General Diehl of the navy, he says the findings of the court of inquiry, that nobody should be held responsible for the act, was judged by the evidence submitted, and this decision was approved by acting Secretary Newberry.

General Manager Mohler at Omaha yesterday, issued a statement that the following relief supplies for San Francisco are being moved over the Union Pacific railroad: One car flour, Maquoketa, Iowa; one car clothing, Denver; one car flour, Beloit, Kan.

An Indianapolis dispatch says twenty-one students of Butler College were suspended, yesterday, as the result of an escapade, Thursday night, when a number of students appeared before the home of Prof. R. B. Moore, and when he appeared at a window, threw several buckets of water on him. One rock was thrown through the window. The students objected to some of the rules laid down by the professor.

The ecclesiastical court which tried Dr. Algernon S. Crapsey of Rochester, N. Y., for heresy will reassemble in executive session at the parish house of St. James Church, Batavia, May 9, to examine the evidence and decide on a verdict. The following day the court will transmit their findings to Bishop Walker, upon whom rests the responsibility of deciding what punishment, if any, shall be meted out.

At Jacksonville, Fla., fire in the storage yards of the Wenricke-Mariner Chemical Company destroyed 15,000 tons of batting draught, a resin waste used by the company in making oil, valued at $150,000. The retorts and buildings of the company were in great danger, but were saved.

Fire in the wholesale district of Ogden has destroyed the warehouses of the Boyle Furniture Company and Runyon-Hinde Company, and damaged the warehouse of the George A. Lowe Hardware Company; loss $55,000, partly covered by insurance.

The Department of Agriculture yesterday announced that inspection of recent importations of macaroni, noodles and similar products has shown that these goods sometimes contain chemical preservatives, such as fluorids, which are regarded as injurious to health. After June 1 next, no importation of macaroni colored with martius yellow or other colors forbidden by the Italian law or preserved with flourids or other preservatives injurious to health will be permitted.

An Altona, Pa., dispatch says the official report of the collision Friday night between the east-bound Chicago mail train and the west-bound Chicago and St. Louis Express, on the Petersburg cut-off, lays the blame on Engineer J. T. Dougherty, who was hauling the west-bound train, and who, it is claimed, misunderstood his orders.

The Sultan of Turkey has attempted to reopen discussion regarding the Tabah affair, but the British Ambassador has declined to do so. It is reported that the Sultan will suggest to submit the request to The Hague.

Secretary Taft and Gen. James H. Smith, Vice-Governor of the Philippines, who is in the United States on leave of absence, were in conference with the President at the White House last night. After his leave has expired, Gen. Smith will return to the Philippines, and in the early fall will become Governor on the retirement of Gov. Ide.

Engineers of the Mexican National Railway have succeeded in locating a line from Durango to Mazatlan, on the Pacific Coast. The locating work has been going on for a year. It is probable that the Inter-Oceanic Railway will build an extension to the oil fields from Tezlutlan.

RAILWAY'S SECRECY.

NEW YORK, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Considerable importance attaches to the meetings held in this city during the last few days of the interests identified with the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company. It is understood that at last Friday's meeting of the board a successor to the late Henry C. Rose was decided on.

No announcement was made, however, and secrecy is maintained regarding the identity of the future chairman of the board, but it is intimated that the successor to Mr. Rose will give an indication regarding the interests that soon will assume control of the property.

One of the officials of the road who was seen today refused to discuss the reports that Myron T. Herrick or Colgate Hoyt might be elected chairman of the board, saying that the time for the naming of the new chairman was premature.

SECOND-CLASS MAIL.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Postmaster-General Cortelyou has recommended to Congress the appointment of a commission to inquire into the subject of second-class mail matter, with a view to ascertaining what modifications of the present second-class laws are necessary, the commission to render its report to Congress not later than December 10, 1906.

In order that all interests shall be represented, he has recommended that the commission consist of seven persons, and be made up as follows: One Senator, selected by the President of the Senate; one Representative selected by the Speaker of the House; one officer of the Postoffice Department selected by the Postmaster-General; one representative of the publishers of weekly, semi-weekly and tri-weekly newspapers, and one representative of the publishers of periodicals and magazines, the last three to be appointed by the President of the United States from among those recommended to him by representative publishers of such newspapers and periodicals, and a seventh member to be selected by the six, whose manner of selection is so specifically provided. An appropriation of $25,000 is recommended to defray the cost of the investigation.

YOUNG NAHANO'S CORPSE.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The body of Eijiro Nahano, the 23-year-old son of a wealthy Japanese banker, who disappeared from a hotel in this city, April 28, was found tonight in a creek running between Bergen and Hudson counties, N. J. A reward of $250 had been offered for information as to Nahano's whereabouts. He was supposed to have had $5000 in cash with him. Tonight only $1.36 was found in his clothing. His gold watch was missing. Nahano was seen near Fair View, N. J., the night of April 28, when he displayed a roll of bills.

MARK TWAIN IN BED.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Mark Twain, who had planned to leave this city Saturday for Dublin, where he was to spend the summer, has been compelled to postpone his departure indefinitely, owing to an attack of bronchitis. He took to his bed Tuesday last with a slight cold, and bronchitis developed Thursday.

OREGON LAND FRAUDS.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Secretary Hitchcock tonight received a telegram announcing the indictment of twenty-one well-known characters of Portland in land cases, as told in a press dispatch from that city. Mr. Hitchcock stated that he was exceedingly gratified with the result of the investigation, and that the government's case was considerably strengthened by the court demanding $4000 in each case.

He said that it is the intention of the government to demand speedy trials, and that investigations are being conducted in other States along the same lines.

NO STRIKE TALK NOW.

SCRANTON (Pa.) May 6.—Nothing developed today to disturb the general belief that a strike of the anthracite mine workers had been averted. There seems to be every assurance that the sub-scale committee of the organization, which will go to New York early tomorrow for a conference with the operators, will be assured by the latter that there will be no discrimination shown in case the men are ordered back to work, and that the term the agreement is to last will be readily agreed upon.

GLASSES WON'T INSURE.

Says the Jewelers' Circular Weekly: It is the common opinion that for striking a man with glasses on there is a severer penalty than for striking him under similar circumstances when he is not wearing glasses. Careful search, however, does not bring forth any statutory provision which declares the offense greater than when the man who is struck wears glasses.

The prevalence of this idea is due no doubt, to the probability of the judge in such cases giving the convicted the extreme penalty. The legal term for assault under such circumstances is "mayhem," signifying that the assailant has, in one way or another, deprived his victim of the power of defending himself.

During an altercation from which a struggle is apt to ensue any one wearing glasses would be wise to remove them, unobserved, if possible, however, because if noticed it might act as a signal to begin hostilities.

Many think that glasses would be a source of general protection in these cases, and often take advantage on that ground; but this is wrong, because no court would hold it worse to strike a man with glasses on than one without, unless the assailant struck directly at his opponent's eyes with the intent to wound or maim him, and whether one were hit elsewhere would not enter the case at all.

SONS OF VETERANS.

The reception to Commander-in-Chief Tanner of the G.A.R. is expected to draw a large number of the Sons of Veterans from neighboring cities to Elks' Hall tonight. The members of W. S. Rosecrans Camp No. 2, of this city will go in a body to the hall, following a short business meeting, and will assist as ushers.

5000 Yards Swiss Embroideries
Worth from 75c to $2 Yard

Tomorrow 25c A Yard

This lot of embroideries represents a manufacturer's surplus stock; we took all he had of the better grades, and only regret that he hadn't more. Got them at a price, too, that enables us to sell them at an average of one-fourth their actual present value. While the quantity is not as large as we would wish, the values certainly eclipse any embroidery values ever offered in this town. The samples shown in one of the Spring street windows prove that.

A dollar a yard would indeed be a conservative average price on the entire 5000 yards.

They are mostly all fine, sheer Swiss embroideries, some few nainsooks perhaps, but no hamburgs.

EDGES FROM 3 TO 18 INCHES WIDE.
INSERTIONS FROM 2 TO 6 INCHES WIDE.
FLOUNCINGS FROM 18 TO 36 INCHES WIDE.

All worked in the newest, most artistic patterns you've seen—and in the finest of Swiss material. In the whole collection you'll find few, if any, pieces worth less than seventy-five cents a yard, the great majority are actually dollar values or better.

They Come In Lenghts Of Six and Three-Quarter Yards

Pieces Will Not Be Cut

"LUCKY'S" YOUNGEST NIECE TO BE BRIDE.

THE holiday spirit again pervades the atmosphere of Rancho Santa Anita, prettiest of E. J. Baldwin's seven fine places, for within a week Marguerite Baldwin, youngest, and one of the fairest of the beautiful nieces of "Lucky" will become a bride. The man who will walk to the altar with the late Jack Baldwin's pretty daughter is Clem C. Cribb, who is well-known and highly thought of in the San Gabriel Valley.

The wedding will take place at noon next Monday, in the Los Angeles home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. White, on Harvard Boulevard, and the little party that will gather will include many of the same friends and relatives who gathered at the ranch house under the green trees many months ago to celebrate the nuptials of Anita Baldwin and Herbert White, the young Pittsburgh metallist.

Mr. Baldwin, though sorely stricken of late by a serious affection of the eyes, has taken great interest in the weddings of two of his favorite nieces, and at the time of the marriage of Anita, who was brought as a baby to the famous rancho and named for it, opened the choicest wines in his cobwebbed cellars for the guests. Since that day the father of the young women has passed away, and the celebration next week will therefore be more quiet than otherwise.

When Rancho Santa Anita, famed for fine vineyards and fast horses, was first secured from the Spanish by Baldwin, the E. Jack Baldwins came out from Indiana to make their home upon it, and there they have lived since, and there the lovely daughters have grown to womanhood and been wooed and won. The White brothers, Herbert and Frank, came out from the East with the intention of spending four years traveling through the West, but the meeting of Herbert White and Anita Baldwin changed their plans. Since that time Clem Cribb has discovered the charms of Marguerite Baldwin and his plans have met the fate of those of many other mice and men. Clem Cribb will now abandon previously-cherished plans for California life in the open, and will come into the city to dwell with Mr. and Mrs. White on fashionable Harvard Boulevard.

Marguerite Baldwin, daughter of Rancho Santa Anita, whose heart has been won by Clem C. Cribb.

STRICKEN SUDDENLY.

Overcomes Pittsburgh Manufacturer on Street Car and He Dies Within Few Hours.

While returning on a street car to his home after calling on a friend on Forty-seventh street Saturday afternoon, W. W. Strickler, aged 74 years, a prominent manufacturer of Pittsburgh, was stricken with a stroke of paralysis. He was carried into the home of Dr. H. [illegible], No. 1109 Central avenue, and died in a few hours.

Mr. Strickler had been spending the winter in Southern California. On Saturday evening, with his wife, he was visiting at the home of Mrs. John Grese, No. [illegible] Forty-seventh street, the latter an old friend of Mr. Strickler. About 9 o'clock they left to go to their lodgings and at that time Mr. Strickler appeared as well as usual. Later, however, he became very ill. On Eleventh street the car was stopped and the then unconscious man was carried into the home of Dr. [illegible]. Everything possible was done for him but he failed to rally and passed away in the home of Dr. [illegible].

The remains were removed to the parlor rooms of Peck & Chase, where final arrangements have not as yet been completed, but it has practically been decided to place the remains in a vault here until summer, when they may be shipped East for interment.

Mr. Strickler was one of the best-known business men of Pittsburgh and retired from the manufacturing business several years ago. He has been prominent as a Grand Army man, was a member of Veteran Camp No. 1 of Pittsburgh. Mr. Strickler served during the entire Civil war in the famous Pittsburgh Rifles and made a brilliant record as a soldier during the great conflict.

ORIGIN OF SEA-TERMS.

Admiral Tar Got His Nautical Particular—Some of Them Said to Be Far-Fetched.

It is hardly a language which has been called upon to provide [illegible] some of the curious sea terms [illegible] in constant use and whose origin is so obscure. For instance, says the Marine Journal, the word "admiral" is not of Arabic origin, but is from the Arabic "Amir Bagh," or Lord of the Sea. Coxswain comes from the Latin caput, and is from Icelandic, and means helmsman or equal. Coxswain is a [illegible] derivation would never suggest. The coxswain was originally the man who pulled the after oar in the captain's boat, which was usually the cockboat. This in turn is a corruption of the word coracle, a kind of boat used on the Wye and Severn. So coxswain comes to us from the Welsh.

[illegible] is not so difficult to trace to its beginning. It is simply from the word commandatore, meaning [illegible] No such person as Davy Jones ever existed, though we often hear of his locker. One should not confuse "Davy Jonah's locker," for [illegible] the original. Duffy is the Irish name for spirit or ghost, and Davy refers, of course, to the [illegible].

[illegible] curious case of a term gradually [illegible] out of its original form [illegible] "hatch." It was originally spelled "hatch," because it lasted [illegible] instead of four, and [illegible] possible that the same [illegible] to be on duty every day [illegible] hours.

[illegible] the "sheet anchor," the [illegible] the largest anchor carried. It is really "shote [illegible] so called because of [illegible] which makes it easy to shoot out in case of emergency.

Instead of the terms "port" and "starboard" which are used nowadays, they used to talk of "larboard" and "starboard." Starboard has nothing in common with stars, but is really the Anglo-Saxon "steor board" for "steer side," because in all galleys which were steered by an oar the oar was fixed somewhat to the right hand side of the stern, and the helmsman held the inboard portion in his right hand. "Larboard" was probably a corruption of lower board, the larboard side being inferior to the other.

The "jury mast" has nothing in common with a jury except its derivation from the same word "jour," the French word meaning day. The jury mast is one which is put up temporarily—for a day—just as a jury in its legal term meant a tribunal summoned for a short period only.

APACHES HOLD RECORD.

History Shows These Redskins to Have Been Worst Murderers in America.

E. S. Curtis in his new book, "Vanishing Indian Types—the Tribes of the Southwest," published in May Scribner's, says: Scarcely a tribe of our American Indians but what have engraved their record of crime and infamy high up on history's wall, yet above them all is the Apaches'.

From 1540 to 1853, New Spain and Mexico carried on a so-called warfare with these people. The Apaches were vastly outnumbered by the Mexican soldiery, but what they lacked in numbers was more than made up in courage and craftiness. The Apache ever had a thorough contempt for the Mexican soldier, and in later years, when they were fighting with firearms as well as arrows, they would not waste cartridges on the Mexicans, but would kill them with arrows, spears and stones, saving their cartridges for other and more worthy foes.

When this Southwest region became a part of the United States, the Apaches were a serious problem with which we had to contend. Our government vacillated between a simpering peace policy and the other extreme, their extermination.

Their zone of wandering being intersected by the international boundary line further complicated matters. They would raid down into Mexico and then rush back with the plunder to our side of the line, out of reach of the pursuing soldiers. Next, it would be a raid on the Arizona side and a flight into the wild mountains of Sonora. The Mexican government attempted to assist their miserable army by giving a scalp bounty, and for years they paid out their gold coin for Apache scalps. Scalp hunting became a recognized industry. The horror of this was that, to the Mexican official, all scalps looked alike, whether from the head of a hostile or a friendly Indian. The price was one hundred dollars for a man, fifty dollars for a woman, and twenty-five dollars for a child. It is small wonder that the tribe sank deeper in savagery than ever, when we stop to think that the men knew there was a price set on the scalps of their wives and children; and there was a horde of human fiends, white in color, but more savage than the savage himself, who were hunting them as they would a cougar of the mountains.

Gold in Corn.

Last year was a big corn year in Nebraska. On 6,472,487 acres the yield was 243,712,206 bushels, or an average of more than 37½ bushels to the acre. But the average during the past ten years has been only about thirty bushels. Moreover, it is a reasonable hope that, with the proper attention to the single grain of corn, the crop of the State should within another ten years average sixty bushels to the acre. In other words, the State, through the young professors, reasonably hopes to increase the yearly prosperity of her people by something like $30,000,000 or $30,000,000. Such is the treasure that may germinate from a grain of corn in Nebraska alone.—[The World's Work.

Mikado's Self-Denial.

In the bitter cold of last winter—1904-1905—the Mikado not content with the fullest official reports, sent his Grand Master to look into the conditions at the front, to ascertain by visiting every camp and output, how the soldiers were faring. When Count Hijikata returned with his harrowing tale of frightful suffering caused by the cold, the Emperor was broken-hearted. Nothing more could be done—the Manchurian winter must drag its icy season through—but the Emperor would not take his ease while his men were freezing, and the order to discontinue all heating of the palace till the war should be over showed that his sympathy was with them day by day.—[The World's Work.

Pen Points

Take off your cap, Gen. Funston! The whole country is saying nice things about you.

Those who said that young Mr. Garfield was being duped by the trusts do not seem to know him very well.

If Capt. Hobson is at all grateful, the woman suffragists will have another friend in the next Congress.

A Chicago professor asserts that Richard Mansfield lacks brains. Well, what if he does. Mr. Mansfield is an actor.

When San Francisco is again able to defend herself she should go after those eastern newspapers that continually refer to her as "Frisco."

The Philadelphia Press also puts it very nicely by saying: "The earth may shake San Francisco, but the people of this country never will."

Once in a while a fat man also does something worth while. Tom Johnson has invented a motor which has been tested to run 400 miles an hour.

If San Francisco still needs food and supplies, there should be no difficulty in obtaining them. There are still a lot of people who haven't contributed.

On May Day Philadelphia congratulated herself that she had found the municipality free of grafters. Watch out, sister, lest they sneak back again.

Speaking of Carnegie, Hobson and Gov. Hoch, it is claimed that kissing men are now coming into great prominence. The thing to do is not to be caught at it.

If Uncle Sam would only allow the editor of the Congressional Record to use the blue pencil as other able editors do, he would save a whole lot of white paper.

Again it may be remarked that the Standard Oil Company probably regrets that it did not make a greater effort to defeat President Roosevelt during the campaign of 1904.

The word "Admiral" is taken from the Arabic "Emil el Bagh," meaning Lord of the Sea. This being the case, there are several admirals who ought to be given different titles.

We are indebted to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat for perhaps the best thing that has been said about the earthquake—"One shake of nature makes the whose world chip in."

President Roosevelt evidently has his enemies the same as other men. Some of them have suggested that he be elected to the United States Senate when his term in the White House expires.

Speaker Cannon is of the opinion that Congress will be in session until August. But the public will not mind it. Nearly everybody will be off on vacations with a chance to forget things.

An eastern newspaper refers to Secretary Shaw as "a preachment." It seems that when a man is a candidate for office the public press thinks it has a license to say anything it likes about him.

A prominent American journal employs a man to write a column of stuff every day about girls. When last heard from he had so warmed up to the subject that he was kicking for more space.

The three days' speech that Senator LaFollette delivered on the Rate Bill, consisted of such platitudes as "Our responsibility is great, our duty is plain." We do not blame the other Senators for declining to sit and listen to that kind of guff.

The Umatilla Indians are employing lawyers to defend them against the encroachment of white settlers in Oregon. The prediction that the Indians would soon disappear seems now about to be verified.

A young couple started out from Cambridge, Mass., on their wedding tour, and rode 3200 miles on trolley cars before their return. If they are not tired of each other by this time, they must at least be tired of trolleys.

In reply to a young lady tourist who is now here, we desire to say that there is no known defense that will protect her against fleas. Her one consolation lies in the fact that the California flea is particularly partial to good-looking people.

Sir William Howard Russell has recently celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday. The fact would scarcely be worth chronicling were it not that he has been a reporter on the London Times nearly all his life and is still working. Shake, old man!

Our Consul at Canton, China, reports that imports of cotton, metals and woolens are increasing at that point, but American goods are not represented. In other words, the Chinese have removed the boycott against us, but still decline to buy what we have to sell.

Senator Money thinks a good deal of the waters of Niagara must be lost through evaporation. Doubtless it is true, but we could stand it if the human evaporators would let up on the awful speed with which they are turning the great waterfall into a dry precipice.

COME AND SEE.

Malicious reports have been spread more or less widely in the East, to the effect that "the facts regarding the extent of the earthquake damages in Los Angeles are being concealed," "that the losses here were really serious," etc., etc. Of course, every resident of Los Angeles (including the managers of the Hearst abomination) knows that there has been no concealment of facts by any reputable citizen of Los Angeles. If there were any disposition to conceal facts there would be no object in doing it, for the good and sufficient reason that there is nothing to conceal. The false reports published by the Hearst papers in New York and Chicago, telling of business blocks in ruins and thousands of dead piled in the streets, have prepared the minds of many easterners for the belief that Los Angeles has been destroyed, and that in some mysterious manner, and for some occult purpose, the facts of the alleged devastation have been concealed. If Hearst's yellow yawpers had told the truth in the first instance (a thing perhaps impossible for them to do,) there would not now be any occasion for denying that Los Angeles is concealing any facts in regard to its "earthquake."

It is a fact, as has been stated over and over again, in press dispatches, in newspaper editorials, and by word of mouth, that on the day following the earthquake which damaged San Francisco, a slight tremor, or "temblor," was felt in Los Angeles. It is also a fact that the tremor was so slight that many persons in the city did not notice it at all, and that among those who did feel it very few were in the least alarmed. There is no portion of the United States which does not feel these earth-shudders occasionally. Also, there is no part of the world's crust which may not be visited by an earthquake of greater or less severity. Southern California is no more liable to such visitation than other parts of the earth. In all its history, running back for more than a century and a half, Southern California has never had an earthquake that could properly be called serious.

Those persons who have been led to believe that Los Angeles is "concealing something" would do well to come here and investigate for themselves, or send some reliable agent. Los Angeles would welcome such an investigation. Our citizens would meet an investigating delegation at the station with a brass band, would present to it the key of the city, and would aid in every possible way to contribute to the thoroughness of the investigation. Our people would do more. They would agree, no doubt, to raise by popular subscription a generous fund to be presented to the person or persons who could discover anywhere in Los Angeles the slightest trace of injury by the "earthquake" which, according to the Hearst versions, "devastated" our fair city, killed thousands of its citizens, threatened other thousands by fire, and laid its large commercial buildings in ruins. The Times will not undertake to say how large an amount of money would be presented to the first discoverer of damage by earthquake in Los Angeles, but it feels that it can safely guarantee to him, her or it, a leather medal and cash enough to pay all the expenses of investigation.

OUR POORLY BUILT STREETS.

Some of the automobile men have given the Board of Public Works an object lesson upon the need of better street surfaces in Los Angeles, by bumping them over several miles of the worst streets in the south and southwestern sections. The value of such an effort to "impress" upon the board the necessity for street betterment will hardly be denied. Even a casual inspection of almost any of our residence thoroughfares shows that there is vast room for improvement. Few of these streets were constructed of suitable material in the first place. Soft dirt was used, very generally, where a heavy coating of sound, clean gravel should have been employed. This soft dirt is excellent for raising cabbages, onions and other garden truck, but it is not the thing for public highways. Regularly, with every winter's rains, these improperly constructed streets are badly washed out, and the cost of the constant repairs soon makes them more expensive than would be the construction of a good street in the first instance.

There is another (and also a remediable cause for the bad streets in Los Angeles. So rapidly is the city growing that the frequent digging up of the streets for water pipes, gas pipes, sewers, electric conduits, and connections with the same, is unavoidable. These excavations might be endured as a necessary inconvenience if in each and every instance the surface of the street were restored to as good a condition as when the digging was begun. But it is the rare exception that this kind of work is properly performed. The city water department itself sets a very bad example by not filling up, in a workmanlike manner, the trenches which are opened for the laying of water mains and for the making of connections with them. When the city itself is derelict, with what reason can it require private corporations to comply with the ordinances? It is quite true, as the Board of Public Works discovered in the course of its jaunt, that some of our residence streets are not unlike the common corduroy road of commerce. By constructing our thoroughfares of suitable material, and by enforcing rigidly the ordinances requiring the proper restoration of street surfaces after excavations, it would be possible and feasible to have good, serviceable public highways in Los Angeles.

In this connection, there is one thing that must not be lost sight of, viz., that the public streets are for the use of the entire public, and not for the use of any particular class. Automobilists have often and seriously transgressed the city ordinances and the State law by driving their vehicles through the streets at dangerous rates of speed, resulting in the killing or maiming of many persons, at one time and another. If the betterment of the streets will serve merely to encourage fast driving, with its attendant menace to life and limb, the improvement would be attained at so great a cost as to render it not wholly desirable. To leave an excavation improperly filled is not so reprehensible as to tear through the street at an immoderate rate of speed, endangering the safety of all who use the public highways. Every day, reckless automobilists violate the speed laws on those of our streets that have been paved with asphalt. If the city streets are to be improved for the purpose of furnishing a speedway for law-defying automobilists, the cost of the improvements will prove a poor investment.

YOUTH VS. EXPERIENCE.

A dispatch from Chicago, a few days ago, announced the beginning of a system of humane work which ought to be instituted in other cities of the country. Employment offices are to be opened in which especial attention is to be given to finding employment for men and women past 45 years of age. The work is to be carried out under the auspices of the Chicago Bureau of Charities—although it is in no true sense a work of charity. A central office is to be located in the business district, and branches are to be established in different parts of the city. In addition to finding employment for persons past 45 years of age, it is proposed to provide work for unfortunates who have been unable to get it because of physical or mental infirmity.

That this project will occupy a wide field of usefulness is obvious at a glance. It will aid many capable and willing workers who are perhaps more in need of aid than any other class. Since the railroads and many industrial corporations began their systematic discriminations against men of middle life, the latter have been subject to great hardships, and many of them have fallen in the struggle for existence, through sheer loss of hope and courage, at a time when their efficiency, skill and judgment were at the maximum. This absurd discrimination against working men and women on the sole ground of age has caused many pitiful tragedies within the past few years; for it amounts, practically, to denying to such persons the right to live. Those who depend upon labor for subsistence must needs cease to live if work be denied them, or must become objects of charity—a fate that to most of them would be worse than death.

Sooner or later there will be a reversal of this unjust and cruel policy of discrimination. The mere test of years is not the true measure of efficiency in any calling. Some men are young and vigorous at seventy—and even at eighty—while others are in their dotage at twenty-five, and some persons are born "doddering." All depends upon the spirit within the man, which is sure to find expression in outward achievements, quite irrespective of the flight of years.

It is a self-evident fact that with added years comes increase of experience, of judgment, and usually of wisdom. Youth is proverbially rash, adventurous, experimental. Who shall say how many railroad accidents have been caused, and how many precious lives destroyed, because young and hasty hands, in preference to experienced and careful hands, were entrusted with the controlling lever of locomotive or trolley car?

GOOD WORK AT PANAMA.

A detailed investigation of the work which the government is doing on the Isthmus of Panama was recently made by a magazine writer—Lindsey Denison. This writer evidently did not go to the isthmus with his mind already made up, but went, rather, to learn the truth. He remained long enough to obtain facts which are of value, and he has given, in Everybody's Magazine, the results of his investigations. He declares that the business of the American people is being well done, regarding the matter from a general and impartial point of view. Some mistakes have been made. The work is not altogether perfect. No human work is without a flaw. But the conditions and the work so far accomplished are far better than some of the government's self-constituted critics have represented them.

"There is too much petty graft, as on the railroad," says Mr. Denison; "but it is of more importance than mosquito bites on an elephant." This is in accordance with the general public belief, which has been slow to credit the wild and improbable rumors of bribery, graft, incompetence and general corruption on the part of government officials at Panama. As a general proposition, people have refused to believe our government to be so weak and inefficient as to tolerate such serious abuses as have been exploited with circumstantial and studied falsity in the putrid press.

"One has only to use his eyes," observes M. Denison, "to see that we have gone into one of the pestholes of the world and have made it fairly habitable; that we have tackled a job in which another great nation failed conspicuously, and that we are so conducting it as to keep clear of shame; that in spite of tremendous difficulties on the spot and malicious and mercenary hindrances here at home, we are doing sane, effective, honest work; that we are going to build the canal and build it well."

Here is the straightforward truth. The American people will be glad to hear it spoken at last. In every great work of this kind, some faults, some petty graft, some mistakes of one kind or another, are sure to creep in. But these are merely incidental in the case of Panama. The sincerity, the earnestness, the executive ability and the integrity of Theodore Roosevelt are not to be called into question. He is the executive head of the canal project, and he may be trusted to the uttermost in spite of the malicious efforts of calumniators to discredit him and the great canal enterprise.

One cannot blame people interested in the continued growth of Los Angeles who are vexed at the insistence of the Evening Express in exploiting the notion that building materials are "too high" in Los Angeles. The carefully prepared statement of the Builders' Exchange shows that materials are lower in Los Angeles than in many other cities of its class. These prices are regulated by the irresistible law of supply and demand, whether in Los Angeles or San Francisco or Chicago—in the case of Editor Earl as well as in all and divers others. If Earl is building a couple of blocks, that is a poor excuse for his attempts to hammer the material men by intimations in his newspaper that Los Angeles is a poor city in which to build just now, for the reason that lumber and bricks are "too high." It is a prostitution of journalism to seek to serve private ends in such a petty manner so damaging to the interests of a whole city. Let Earl pay what everybody else pays, permit the material men to make a fair profit on what they sell him, and stop squealing and butting against facts.

UNCONSIDERED TRIFLES.

The Various Springfields.

Said Springfield, O., to Springfield, Mo.,
"You are the toughest town I know."
Said Springfield, Mo., with unctuous glee,
"You're in the mire as deep as me."
Said Springfield, Ill., to Springfield, Mass.,
"I'm glad we're not in such a class."
Said Springfield, Mass., to Springfield, Ill.,
"I trust no gore we'll ever spill."
"Don't crow too soon," quoth Springfield, O.,
"You may join me and Springfield, Mo."
"What name are you going to give your town?"
"Haven't decided as yet, but I can tell you a name we're not going to give it."
"Well?"
"Springfield."

The Small Boy's' Torment.

Whene'er he starts to do a thing
It's "Don't!"
What though he whistle, talk or sing?
It's "Don't!"
For tarts and cookies he may yearn
But should he toward the pantry turn
He's sure to hear in accents stern:
"Now, don't!"
At home or school, at work or play
It's "Don't!"
It sounds throughout the livelong day,
That "Don't!"
No doubt he thinks if he should die
And roam to realms beyond the sky
That he would hear the same old cry:
"Now, don't!"

No Room for Doubt.

"She turned me down!"
"Ah, a woman's 'no' frequently means 'yes.'"
"She didn't say 'no.' She said skidoo!"

Where She Sat.

"Reinforce the seat, sir?" asked the tailor.
"Yes," said young Softleigh, "and you might—er—reinforce the knees. I got engaged last night."

Usage.

We don't condemn a wealthy bore.
It's not the thing.
We do not show a rogue our door.
It's not the thing.
We do not call an upstart down,
Decline to know a boorish clown
Or meet a scoundrel with a frown.
It's not the thing.

We don't avoid a scamp, because
It's not the thing.
We never break the social laws.
It's not the thing.
Should we our actual natures show
And as ourselves throughout life go
And true and honest be? Oh, no!
It's not the thing.

Paradoxical.

"The poor," remarked the philanthropist, "we have always with us."
"And invariably against us," retorted the trust magnate with a sardonic grin.

Her Experience.

"One doesn't often get a husband like John,' said the St. Louis lady.
"No?"
"No, indeed. At least I seldom have."

Friends of His Youth.

"How did you like the minstrel show?"
"Ah, some of its features carried me back to my boyhood days."
"The songs?"
"No; the jokes."

A Bad Case.

"McLush has been arrested for drunkenness and wants you to bail him out."
"Bail him out?" ejaculated Colonel Pepper, who had heard the remark indistinctly. "Good gracious, is he that full?"

Thought He Was Gone.

"What were your sensations when the earthquake struck? Were you scared?"
"You bet I was. I thought my wife had gotten tired of calling me and come after me as she occasionally does."

Would Be Nice.

"Yep," said the pugilist, "when we signed articles it wuz stipulated dat no gouging would be permitted."
"Ah," sighed Muchpop, "I wish I could engage summer board for my family on those terms."

Too True.

The world they've proven to be round
There is no doubt of that;
But Life itself, as I have found
Is very often flat.

"Ah, has his wife wooed him away from his one vice?"
"Well, she shooed him away."

"The Times" Scholarship Contest FOR 1906.

The sixth annual scholarship contest of the Los Angeles Times will be conducted this year on the usual lines and the date of opening will soon be announced.

This is not a catch-penny coupon device, such as giving a gold-plated bracelet to the most popular nurse girl, but an educational contest of proven merit, through which twenty-five or thirty young people have been educated annually for the past five years and a large number of others have received substantial rewards. Many of the graduates are now occupying lucrative positions. The contests have stimulated scores of young people to bring out the best there is in them.

The contest of 1906 will be greater in every respect than any preceding. More inducements will be offered and the scope of the benefits will be broadened. Young people should keep their eyes open for the full announcement.

Los Angeles is the great educational center of the Southwest, and these scholarship events instituted by The Times are making it greater, attracting the eyes of the whole Southland to the city's educational advantages.

That Other Shaken City.

THE CHARLESTON EARTHQUAKE AND THE DAYS SUCCEEDING. COMPARISON MADE WITH SAN FRANCISCO.

By Mrs. H. D. Howell.

HOW the Charleston earthquake compares, in destruction of property and loss of life, with the recent appalling disaster in San Francisco; whether confidence in the stability of the earth's crust has, in the former city, ever been regained; whether the ruined buildings have been restored and values become normal after the demoralization of so severe a shake-up, are questions frequently heard.

There is also keen interest in the liability of other sections to similar visitations. Except in the proximity to the sea, there are no points of resemblance between San Francisco and Charleston. The former, with mountains close upon her that, according to some scientists, are still "growing," and with tremors common in her history; the latter, in a country almost level, where the occurrence of an earthquake was such an undreamed-of possibility that when Summerville, a suburban town, claimed a perceptible shock some four days prior to the one that rent her vitals, Charleston laughed. An earthquake? Nonsense! The Summervillians were such a sleepy lot that a mild explosion of powder or dynamite in the distance had given them a nightmare.

It would seem, then, that no section of the country can justly claim immunity from a similar calamity, that there is no means of determining where the next readjustment will take place, for in the interior of the United States also there has been a tremendous cataclysm, resulting in the well known "Sunken Lands."

San Francisco having settled, having furnished a vent for the unrest of the Western coast, may now be more safe than any other of our cities. With her large business houses constructed to withstand heavy jars, and impregnable to fire, the chances of safety should be better there than where there are not such safeguards.

Until geological experts weigh the evidence in and around San Francisco, a comparative estimate can be made only by results. The percentage of loss in life and property by the earthquake alone, may be as great for Charleston with its population of 60,000, as for San Francisco, the official list of deaths resulting from the catastrophe of 1886 being eighty-three, twenty-seven of whom were killed outright, and of damage to property, $5,000,000. Yet, had the shock of San Francisco occurred, as in Charleston, on a summer evening, when many were abroad to be caught and crushed by falling walls, falling always outward, the loss of life would have been increased enormously.

There were no fissures in Charleston's streets wider than three quarters of an inch, and the greatest sinking of any structure was eight inches, the foundations of the steeple of old St. Michael's having settled to that depth. Had there been inequalities in the soil beneath, another "leaning tower" might have resulted, but the deviation from a true line is not perceptible to the casual observer.

The city, however, was not the center of the seismic disturbance; Summerville, some twenty miles inland, was more severely shaken and had more frequent subsequent shocks. The one large fissure, about two feet in breadth, occurred fifteen miles from the city; here also were found many "craterlets" of considerable size, one measuring twenty-one feet in diameter. In another place, at the same distance from Charleston, the ground was thrown into permanent waves or ridges. All along the section of greatest disturbance, the railroad tracks were dislocated and distorted, and at one point a train was derailed and wrecked.

SLOW FLAMES.

Fires were started in many places by overturned lamps, and for a time there was no water; but the flames did not spread rapidly, the atmosphere being so calm that candles lighted out of doors burned upwards with a steadiness that appeared supernatural to those who looked for signs. It was an act of heroism that the engineer of the water company immediately entered the cracked four-story building in which was his machinery, and repaired the damage that prevented the flow of water through the city's mains, thus preventing a conflagration.

The intense excitement of the moment, in many instances, removed the limits of physical powers; one young woman, whose home was threatened by fire, carried in her arms, across the street and into a place of safety, a chest of family silver that, in the calmer frame of the following morning she was not able so much as to lift.

There were many small geysers throughout the city from which issued sand differing in quality and color from the natural soil. One source of revenue to the enterprising small boy was the sale of neat layers of this "earthquake sand" displayed in glass tubes. So great was the variety of stripes in a single tube that a skeptic, desiring verification, followed the small boy to his lair, and discovered him industriously pulverizing brick and oyster shell that he might have an interesting contrast for the blue mud that was in reality of subterranean origin.

Business, except in groceries and souvenirs, was for a time practically suspended; there were few shoppers for the stores were believed to be unsafe. A week after the quake a customer, the only one in a large department store, had just inquired for some article, when without a word of explanation the shop-girl to whom he had spoken, followed by all the others, darted precipitately into the street. He was non-plussed; what was happening on the street of such extraordinary interest? He stood his ground with rising indignation that a shopper of his degree should be treated in so cavalier a manner. Then to his slower wits came understanding; when it was too late for him to seek safety in flight, the floor shook as though in the grip of some angry giant hand, while fancy goods rattled on the shelves around and above him. Small wonder that shopping had temporarily lost its popularity.

For the months succeeding this momentous thirty-first day of August, there was no rain, a drouth unsuat in that section; this fact saved thousands of dollars in merchandise that lay unprotected in tottering and gaping storage-rooms. This was especially a blessing to those sleeping out of doors. No brick building in the city was free from damage, and many considered houses of any sort a menace; camps, therefore, were established in the parks and private gardens. A tent, even in the shadow of a ten-foot brick wall, was still a tent, and supposedly earthquake proof.

There was no grumbling over ruined homes and the inconveniences of camp life; there was visiting and joking through the day, and a general dosing with bromide of potassium at night. Friendships were formed that have endured. Affection that already existed could not be concealed, and there resulted a goodly number of what were styled "earthquake engagements."

THE EXCITED NEGROES.

The negroes, constituting half the population of Charleston, were in a state of wild excitement, most of them believing that the day of judgment was at hand. The prayer of one old darky at this time was given wide newspaper circulation: "Dear Lord, come yo'self to help us, don' sen' yo' son, ca'se chillun is so ca'less dese days."

The main topic of discussion during these troubious times, when women smiled cheerily, even though they blanched to the lips at any unexpected sound, was the cause of the seismic disturbance. Old text-book explanations were at a discount and anybody was free to guess. A man of learning would assert, with an air of profound knowledge, that it was "largely electrical;" this being attractively vague and mysterious, would find ready acceptance. Another thought that the artesian wells were at the bottom of it; which they undoubtedly were. A dabbler in science expressed his conviction that the Charleston earthquake was the same that had previously destroyed several Italian towns; according to the data of seismic waves, and his calculations, it had arrived exactly on time. As there is a general disposition to shift responsibility, this was the most popular theory advanced, and its author basked in scientific prestige, defending his claim against all comers until—there were cable reports of fresh earthquakes in Italy, when he, incontinently, abandoned it.

As is reported from the northern city, personal experiences, though of absorbing interest to the raconteur, soon came to be considered on unmitigated bore. It is related that a couple of expressmen were carrying a trunk into a house when an inmate accosted them. "At a quarter of ten o'clock," he remarked, "on Tuesday evening, I was sitting—" but the door had closed on two fleeing expressmen, who had hesitated not a moment between the loss of their pay and the hearing again of the worn, familiar tale.

All of the churches were badly damaged. The hands of the clock in the spire of St. Michael's pointed grimly to the fateful hour, while the chimes by which the domestic economy of a large portion of the city had been regulated, were stilled. Divine services were held in the parks, union services, where the worshipers, in common brotherhood, supplicated for deliverance from an evil that no human power could control.

Gradually, as it became apparent that the slight tremors were to continue, and did not presage another heaval, confidence was restored; ple returned to their homes, work of restoration was begun in earnest. In two weeks' time the rang again from St. Michael's their sweet tones, almost bringing assurance of danger p

For at least two years the continued, but the rebuilding bravely forward. The generous from all parts of the country made possible. A committee of engineers inspected the houses, reporting the pairs necessary to render them and the money was distributed to those unable to pay for such tion. Householders who could frequently included improvements their rebuilding. Thus, in the Charleston was a handsomer city before.

The curious now will notice mental designs on many brick they are the heads of iron bolts into the building to secure a wall might otherwise be bulging. and real estate values appear to suffered not at all, and these tive bolts are all that tell of a trophe that caused world-wide nation and world-wide sympathy decades ago.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

Gilbert's Yiddish Opera Company, or, to speak more correctly, a dramatic company, opened a season of Yiddish plays last night at the Mason Opera-house.

The audience was small, but it was representative. The Gentile who can not understand the Yiddish dialect has no business there other than as a matter of curiosity. However, curiosity plays a large part, for the queer stage "business," the lines upon which these peculiar compositions are constructed, the development of the plot, the characters that are introduced of necessity—all this is interesting to a high degree.

Yiddish on the stage is stranger than Yiddish in the synagogue or upon the street. It is one of the queerest perversions of an existent language, and the clear enunciation of these actors brings out the strange, shrill turning of every phrase.

Last night's bill was "The Sacrifice of Isaac," a drama with music, founded upon the scriptural legend. In Yiddish plays a buffo is believed necessary to the play, and accordingly a low comedian in sixteenth-century costume appeared antically through the whole session of acts. Other characters were dressed appropriately.

Several good voices are heard in the chorus. Messrs. Silbert, Shoenholtz and Weisman have decided histrionic talent.

Tonight's bill will be the Jewish "Faust," which, in its flavor of adaptation to another race, should prove even more interesting than the first play.

Los Angeles playgoers will doubtless be glad to welcome again Mina Crolius Gleason, who will return to the Burbank company next week. Mrs. Gleason was first introduced to local audiences with the Baker theater company, and played in a very successful repertoire

The Redlands Clef Club, one of the most ambitious organizations of the outside towns, gave a May Festival concert last Wednesday evening. By all accounts the affair was a brilliant success. Two soloists from this city assisted.

Under the head "Show Was Rotten," the Ontario Record gives the latest vivacious addition to contemporary dramatic criticism: "Miss Maud Harkins and her company of rotten players were here Saturday night and the house which greeted the aggregation was much larger than they deserved. It was a brave man who would admit having been to the performance, Sunday morning.

"The company was only organized last week and the performance given here Saturday night was the third which the company had given. They made their first appearance to the suffering public at Pomona and from there inflicted the punishment on the quiet people of Covina. From here they went to Colton.

"The company carries a piece of a band with them, but without the assistance of local players would have made a sorry mess of making music."

Choose from $1.50 to $3 Values.

All the time you're reading this, keep in mind that one idea—high class embroideries. We can't emphasize too strongly the difference between the really elegant embroideries on special sale today by us, and those which you may have seen on sale elsewhere.

This lot of 3500 or more yards, comprises the broken spring lines of importers—importers, mind you, these are all French, German and Swiss embroideries—who want to unload their stocks. No similar qualities are shown at any other Los Angeles store—of that we're sure.

Goods consist of sheer lawns, mulls and crepe cloths in edges and bands to match, many highly mercerized. Widths are varied, some embroideries are 18 inches wide, exclusive of cloth, there are separable medallion patterns, handsome lace edged embroideries on fine crepe cloths, raised and eyelet designs, drawnwork effects, dozens of the very highest grades of embroideries from Europe's most skilled manufacturers. The poorest in the lot are good values at $1.50 a yard, the majority of them couldn't be bought in regular way for less than $3, or even more. Buy any quantity you wish today at a dollar a yard.

Special Purchase of Silk Finish Mohairs

You may be sure that when the manufacturer came to our terms on these splendid mohairs we didn't give him time to change his mind. He found himself overstocked with a number of the very best qualities, and to restore his trade equilibrium he let us have the entire lot at a loss to himself, and at a price ridiculously low in comparison with their true values. The goods are full 48 inches wide, bright, lustrous silk finished, some embroidered in silk, the designs and shadings are all new, and no woman needs to be told how excellently mohairs wear. We couldn't sell their duplicates in regular stock for less than $1.50 a yard. But here they are (some on display in a show window) at 67½c a yard. Thank the manufacturer, we're simply passing on the good luck to you.

Crispine—it's new, it's sold here only, and at present we've only one shade—cream. Later we shall have colors as well in this splendid cloth. It's 42 inches wide, use it for skirts, or bathing suits—even salt water doesn't affect its beauty. Seventy-five cents a yard.

Quaker gray all wool batiste in chiffon weight—if any other store in Los Angeles is showing it we don't know it. Absolutely all wool and made with the exact touch and finish for sheer gowns. We carry the same weight in porcelain blue. $1 a yd.

A Week of White Wash Goods
Dress Fiques and Madras Suitings.

Among the dozens and dozens of white goods for the summer girls' shirtwaists and costumes, as well as for graduation and confirmation gowns, that we've assembled for this whitest of all white seasons, from this and the other side of the seas, we mention today only one or two, as examples of many. During this week

We Shrink Every Yard of Goods Without Cost

if the purchaser wishes—every yard of pique, plain or fancy, or madras and oxford weaves. This means not only a considerable saving to you, but the assurance that your goods will be thoroughly shrunk by the best methods, which adds greatly to their looks and wearing qualities.

At 15c a yard, and higher. Plain white dress piques, corded both width and length of goods in cords of various weights, fabrics 27 to 30 inches wide, for skirts or suits, both American imported makes, 15c to $1 yard.

At 25c a yard, and higher. White madras suiting, dotted, figured cheviot stripes and novelty Jacquard and damask patterns, these are just out of the cases, some very finely corded piques, with figures, dots and stripes are also included. Widths 27 and 30 inches, 25c to $1 a yard.

Pattern Table Cloths
Decisively Reduced

Of course the finished pattern cloth is vastly prettier than the sort you buy by the yard—vastly more expensive, too, as a rule—not today though; for we've put special prices upon 150 odd ones, some, but not many with napkins to match; which will quickly change them from our possession to yours, if you know linen values. All are nice, fresh, new goods, in no way damaged or inferior to regular stock—Scotch, Irish, German and French linens, from 2x2 to 2x3½ yards in length.

$3.25 grades now $2.50
$3.75 grades now $3.00
$4.40 grades now $3.25
$5.00 grades now $3.75
$6.00 grades now $4.00
$7.50 grades now $5.00

75c Handkerchiefs, 50c

Handkerchiefs carefully hemstitched and allover embroidered upon a finely corded plain linen surface; or of plain firm linen with floral designs, usually sold by us at 75c, today 50c each.

All linen sheer or cambric handkerchiefs, $1 a dozen, 10c apiece.

Sterling Silk Values

Fashion demands silks, and there are more remarkable values here than if the demand were small. We planned for great selling--bought of every fabric likely to be wanted by this city's most refined dressers. A price-word of them:

Rajah Silks—a counterpart of true Asiatic hand-loom fabrics—the best pongee for street wear, evening costumes and blouses. Every fashionable shade, including new old rose, reseda green and grays; white, cream and natural; 30 inches wide, $1.25.

Bagdad Pongees—green, gray, navy, brown, in solid colored grounds with Jacquard effects. New this season; 29 inches wide, and sold regularly at $1.25, now $1 a yard.

Check wash silks at 25c instead of 35c; sold nearly everywhere at 50c, but to close out a small line, we mark our regular 35c qualities to 25c. Genuine imported goods; 20 inches wide.

Kimono silks in cardinal, pink and gray grounds with small figures—all pure silk; 32 inches wide, and good at 85c, here 65c a yard.

Lining Satins

Guaranteed lining satin, 36 inches wide, in the standard colors and every preferred shade, $1. All silk lining satin, guaranteed two seasons, in a full assortment of shades; black, white and cream, $1.50.

Moneybak black taffetas, 23 to 36 inches wide, $1.25 to $2.50 a yard.

Classified Liners

Times "Liner" Advertisers—Important. Note Change in rate for Sunday classified advertisements. Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1905, the rate for Sunday "Liners" was raised to 1¼ cents per word for each insertion; minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the present Sunday circulation of The Times, which averages over 70,000 copies. (When the 1-cent-per-word rate was established in 1893, The Times Sunday circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night, and secure prompt and careful attention. Rates one cent a word each insertion in the Daily; 1¼ cents per word in the Sunday edition; minimum charge, 25c.

"Liner" (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify."

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10 o'clock Saturday nights. Rate 1¼ cents per word.

—Our—

RESIDENCE FLATS

Are distinctly new in architecture.

For

$2500 $3500

We will build you one of our residence flats, containing two flats, one of six rooms and one of five rooms, embodying every modern convenience. The arrangement is unique, both flats having, upon entering, the spacious appearance of a handsome home, each with a large reception hall, separating the living-room and dining-room by columned arches and sliding doors, on the first floor, and the bedrooms are upstairs. They are an ornament to the finest neighborhood.

THEIR RENTING QUALITIES WILL APPEAL TO YOU.

If you own a lot, we will loan you the money to build with at 6 or 7 per cent., the rate depending upon the location.

ANNANDALE HEIGHTS.
Selections of lots may now be made in this beautiful foothill tract, located on Eagle Rock ave. at an elevation of 300 feet above the sea. Like all our tracts, the lots are large, fully-sized lots for actual home use; not too small for seaside use, nor two-thirds of a lot masquerading as a lot. These lots are 50 feet or more in width and of good length. Many of them are level with the street. Terms are easy, one-tenth down and balance $5 or $10 per month. Prices from $100 up. The location, in the beautiful foothills between Garvanza and Eagle Rock, is unexcelled for home building.
Buy before the car line is completed and reap the benefit.

SPORTING PAGE.

ELKS DEFEAT THE KNIGHTS.

Ball Games Furnish Sport for "Has Wases."

Small Crowd Enjoys a Funny Comedy of Errors.

Several Hundred Dollars to Swell Relief Fund.

It's a good thing that Charity covers a multitude of sins for sins that are committed at amateur ball games might not be otherwise overlooked by those who spend their lifetime in counting the mistakes of others they meet. Not a few of the omissions and commissions might be charged to that Elk and Knight of Columbus ball game out at the Chutes grounds yesterday, but, as the boys were sacrificing an afternoon for the sweet charity extended to San Francisco in her suffering, no one thought of the blunders that were made.

It was many miles from being even a good game, but the crowd of spectators picked lots of fun out of it just the same, and a number of real old-time fans were there to laugh at the antics of their friends who went out to take part in the game. Tom McCaffery, the Espee boss, had a fairn load of fun seeing things, and Police Commissioner Doc Hagan said he found more pleasure in a game like that one than in a real league contest. Eckstrom, the professional fan who seldom misses a game of any kind, couldn't be absent yesterday, of course, and made many speeches about the plays and the umpiring of John Brink. Izzy Dockweiler looked on and grinned, as if the Supreme Court had just handed him down a favorable decision, and Martin Marsh evidently though he would rather take a contract to watch the game than to play in it.

There were not over 500 present, for amateur games do not draw well in this city, and most of the fans must have taken the opportunity to go to the beach on such a pleasant afternoon. Still, those who were there did not regret the time or money spent for such a cause.

John Brink don't claim to be an umpire, and he didn't receive much applause from Eckstrom and several others for his decisions, and he made a lot of wild guesses at balls and strikes, but the players took these in a good-natured manner, for Brink is much larger around than any two of the players. He certainly had a lot to worry him, for when some of the fielders got the ball they tried to see how far they could throw it past any particular baseman. Charley Reilly, of course, did the best work at third base, for he is an ex-professional, but McStay, out in center field, had a hard time trying to keep fly balls from hitting his head. He was called "whiskers," because he had the goods on him in the shape of a bunch of lilacs on his chin. Guy Hill, in left field for the Elks, made a pretty running catch, but was not cheered, for he caught a fly ball once before in his whole life. The Moriarity brothers worked themselves black in the face trying to win, but couldn't.

The truth of the matter was that there was just about as many errors as hits, and it might be mentioned that the score at the end was 6 to 5, in favor of the Elks, although several people tried to make the score-board artist change this frequently by ringing the bell.

It is stated that several hundred dollars were secured for the Chamber of Commerce fund, but the total amount will not be known before tomorrow, or until all the ticket sellers make their returns.

Two amateur teams played a seven-inning game before the benefit game, and the Hoegees lost this to the Examiners by a score of 2 to 1.

LOOLOOS WIN AGAIN.

FITZGERALD IS TOO WILD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

FRESNO, May 6.—Los Angeles won today's game by bunching hits in the tenth inning. Fresno twice had the lead, and each time lost it through Fitzgerald's wildness. Atz and Doyle had an altercation during the game that nearly ended in a fight, officers of the law going upon the field and preventing the men from coming to blows. Score:

Los Angeles, 6; hits, 10; errors, 4.
Fresno, 4; hits, 9; errors, 2.
Batteries—Hall and Eager; Fitzgerald, Dashwood and Hogan.
Umpire—McDonald.

PITCHER HITS A HOMER.

HENDERSON SURPRISES HIMSELF

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 6.—Portland won the hardest-fought game of the series in the eleventh inning this afternoon. Oakland had the game, 2 to 0, when Henderson started the eighth inning with a home run. Portland tied it up with another in the ninth, and both teams scored in the tenth. The winning run was made on hits by Lister and McLean, and an error by J. Hackett. Henderson struck out ten men, and two sensational one-handed catches by Lister were the features. Score:

Portland, 4; hits, 11; errors, 5.
Oakland, 3; hits, 6; errors, 3.
Batteries—Henderson and McLean; Reidy and T. Hackett.
Umpire—Knell.

EACH WIN GAME.

SIWASHES BREAK EVEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE, May 6.—Seattle and San Francisco broke even in a double-header today. In the first game Seattle hit the ball when it counted and fielded well at critical points behind the clever pitching of Jones.

In the second game Belt got off badly and San Francisco had things all her own way. Score:

First game:
Seattle, 6; hits, 11; errors, 4.
San Francisco, 3; hits, 7; errors, 4.
Batteries—Jones and Blankenship; Hitt and Wilson.
Second game: Seven innings:
Seattle, 0; hits, 6; errors, 2.
San Francisco, 6; hits, 6; errors, 0.
Batteries—Bell, Vickers and Frary; Cutter and Wilson.
Umpire—Perrine.

NEW BILLIARD TOURNEY.

Five of the Best Men in the Country Will Begin Exhibition Games in Chicago Monday.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, May 5.—Five billiard players of the seven who participated in the International Championship Tournament at New York a few weeks ago, will start an exhibition tournament here at Orchestra Hall next Monday night. The men are Schaefer, Slosson, Cure, Sutton and Hoppe. Ten games will be played beginning Monday, when Cure and Hoppe will meet. Sutton and Schaefer have been installed as the favorites in the tournament, despite the fact that Slosson was the championship when they met [illegible]

ATTELL-HERMAN FIGHT FRIDAY.

SPORTS ARE WAITING FOR GO. WITH INTEREST.

No Good Reason for Making Kid a Favorite Over Attell on Past Performances—Nelson Will Move to Arcadia Today—McCarey Receives Word from Frankie Neil.

Everything is now practically in readiness for the first of the Fiesta boxing contests which will take place before the Pacific Athletic Club next Friday night, when Abe Attell, the world's champion featherweight will meet Kid Herman, an aspirant for the lightweight honors now held by Battling Nelson.

This should be one of the best fights ever given in the West, for little men are always better to look at than big ones in the ring, for the reason that they are more active, quicker on their feet and never wait to be coaxed into fighting. Furthermore, Attell is one of the best boxers in the world, and has shown time and again that he can hold his own with any fighter within ten pounds of his weight, which is supposed to be 122 pounds. Herman is a crack of the first water and is one of the country's stars in the lightweight division.

Both boys have trained faithfully for this go. Herman has been doing his work at the Canary Cottage out near Eastlake Park and Attell has trained at Lewis's gym at No. 435 South Spring street. Both boys will knock off hard work about Wednesday and then spar lightly till Friday to keep their speed.

There has been considerable talk around town that Herman will be the favorite over Attell in the betting, simply because he weighs more than Abe. This kind of dope should not deceive any man of sense for Attell beat Aurelia Herrera twice and thrashed Kid Broad and Young Erne and numbers of other cracks who outweighed him by pounds. It might also be mentioned that he beat Herman. Attell's losing fights were with Benny Yanger and Jack McClelland, both hard nuts and both heavier than he was at the time. The sports should remember that on his record no one under 130 pounds ever received any license to beat Attell.

Abe says he is in good condition and the fact that he wants that belt more than ten times its value in money, will make him put up the fight of his life. The usual preliminaries have been provided and the first contest will start at 8 o'clock.

NELSON CHANGES BASE.

Nelson will leave Fairview Springs today and go over to Arcadia to finish his training for the Herrera fight. The Battler has been taking things easy the past week, but will now get down to business, for he will have a pace set for him by the Mexican and cannot afford to take any chances with a man who knocked out Benny Yanger and fought two draws with Charley Neary in Milwaukee just five months after Neary won from Nelson.

NEIL EXPLAINS MATTERS.

Manager McCarey received a message from Frankie Neil yesterday from Chicago in which Frankie offers to come here and fight Attell if McCarey says so. Neil declares that the "Attell boys" told him that the fights in this city had been called off by McCarey after the San Francisco earthquake and that is why he went East and threw over Attell.

Minor Baseball.

The Los Angeles Newsboys team beat the San Pedro Brilliants yesterday at San Pedro by a score of 13 to 8.

The Dyas-Cline team defeated the National Stars yesterday on the Salt Lake diamond near the river, by a score of 9 to 1. The feature of the game was the pitching of Rieger for the winners.

BASEBALL THIS WEEK.

FRESNO-LOS ANGELES GAMES.

The Coast League is not dead yet by any means, for all the teams have been playing to fairly good crowds the past week, and will continue in business this week. San Francisco goes to Portland; Oakland to Seattle and Fresno and Los Angeles will be the attraction here this week, opening a six-game series at Chutes Park tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. This will mark the first appearance of the Fresno team here this season, and the club will naturally do its best work in order to keep Los Angeles out of the lead.

Word has been received by Manager Morley of this city that a meeting of the league directors has been called to be held in Oakland next Monday, and if things are satisfactory the league will continue right along playing next week without any particular action on the part of the directors. The attendance this week at the local games will probably decide the question as to whether the local team stays in the league, and the whole matter is now up to the fans. If they want Los Angeles on the baseball map, they must turn out in full force this week and show by their patronage that they want the team to keep alive.

BIG LEAGUES STANDING.

PERCENTAGES TO DATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The standing of the major league teams to date, is as follows:

National League—		American League—

Brooklyn	.238	Boston	.353

BROOKLYN HANDICAP.

SYSONBY MAY NOT START.

The great Brooklyn handicap, which is the first of the rich mile-and-a-quarter races in the country, will be run at Gravesend in two weeks, or on Saturday, May 21, and horsemen are beginning to wonder which long-shot will take away the prize. Sysonby was the favorite ten days ago, has gone back in the betting from 6 to 20 to 1, owing to some skin trouble. Roseben, after having been heavily backed from 15 to 6, has gone back to 10 to 1, since his miserable showing in the Excelsior Stakes ten days ago. The Picket and Merry Lark have been cut from 15 to 6 by heavy plunges in the future books and they are now the favorites. Dr. Leggo, who raced at Ascot last winter, has receded from 12 to 15, and Stalwart has been cut from 50 to 10.

SPORT ON BOWLING ALLEYS.

Many Men Roll Up Games Over Two Hundred Mark—Challenge for Trio Contest.

During the past week the following 200 or better tenpin scores were rolled on Morley's alleys:

J. Pearne, 200, 201; Dedrich, 200, 223, 206; Earhuff, 207, Goyette, 207, 211; Tormat, 203, 223, 214, 204, 233, 224, 212, 204, 220, 253, 212, 220, 201, 203, 216; S. Kelley, 210, 208; Leonard, 202, 242, 246, 205; Chaffee, 209, 211, 200; Bowron, 208; Gunning, 235, 200, 204, 211; Hughes, 234, 236; Baron, 225, 252, 211; Valzuella, 204, 215; Wilmat, 224; Struby, 204, 245; Nahrmund, 203; Dodson, 206; Ray, 211; Grensted, 213; Hutchins, 205; Crocker, 225; Porter, 210; Delta, 213.

Quinn and Muesgrenberg are out with a defi to play any trio at tenpins, five games, total pins to win.

CRICKET PRACTICE.

Two Teams Engage in Limbering Up Contest, Which Is First of a Number This Season.

The first real cricket game of the year was played before a fair-sized crowd of enthusiasts at Agricultural Park yesterday afternoon, the Gadsons beating the Eyers by a score of 43 to [illegible]

The game was an exciting one from the start, and now that the weather seems to have settled, it is expected that the sport will be given every Sunday for the next two months, as there is a sufficient number of fairly good players in this city and vicinity to have regular Sunday games. No high individual scores were rolled up because the bowling was better than the average.

The runs made by the teams were as follows:

Gadson's team—		Eyer's team—
Gadson	18	Eyer	5
Meggett	0	Barwell	8
Packman	6	Brown	0
H. Calderbank	0	Mold	0
Salisbury	0	Salter	0
Banford	4	Whitehead	8
Pauley	2	Haines	0
Cadman	7	A. Calderbank	3
Watkins	1	Bryan	1
Hancock	2	German	0
Barrow	1	Poplinger	9
Roney	3	Wiley	0

Another Skating Rink.

The Panorama roller-skating rink, the newest of the city's amusement places of the kind, will be opened next Saturday night. The Panorama is located on Main street, between Third and Fourth, directly opposite the Belasco Theater.

Let Women Drive.

It is not many years ago that anything in the shape of a horse was supposed to be good enough for a woman, says Country Life in America. It was the popular idea among those who knew that given a good horse a woman could ruin it in less than a year. All this has changed among the intelligent women, however. Nowadays the women know how to handle a horse—that is those who use their brains and have watched the real horseman at his work, so this question of sex is not as important as it was at one time. Of course there are thousands of women who know little or nothing about the horse, but with the great number of horse shows all over the country their education is progressing fast, and it will not be long before almost any horse with a reasonable disposition can be safely trusted to a woman and be driven or ridden without danger. At the same time there are ladies and men's horses, not due to the fact that the animals will be handled by the different sexes, but because they require different characteristics according to the persons in charge of them.

NEW JERSEY CAME INSTEAD.

Pittsburgh Looked for, but Newark Arrived.

Queer Confusion of Shrine Special Trains.

Sunday Added Hundred to Al Malaikah's Guests.

The entry of the Shriners continues, though some of the pilgrimage phases are surprising to the entertainers here in Los Angeles.

The general uncertainty as regards specials continues, and was admirably demonstrated yesterday noon, when a committee proceeded to La Grande station to welcome a Pittsburgh contingent—and met instead, at the appointed hour, a trainload from New Jersey!

However, there is no especial preference. Al Malaikah is prepared to welcome all comers who wear the mystic emblem, and just as sure as they arrive, whether from Augustine or Kalamazoo, they will find a warm greeting awaiting them.

Yesterday's contingent occupied four special cars, and started via the Pennsylvania Railroad. The party of Shriners and their wives numbered ninety-four, of whom fifty-three are from Salaam Temple of Newark. Others are from Philadelphia, and there is a scattering representation.

The party represents the great excursion that would have come from New Jersey had the Imperial Council held its session here.

Yesterday was quietly spent, in the main.

In the morning the Indianapolis contingent went automobiling, and in the afternoon, after a reception and fruit luncheon at the Masonic Temple, the New Jersey folks were also conducted upon a "seeing Los Angeles" tour.

The Chinatown party of the night before voted the trip an event of their lives. To most of them the celestial in his native haunts was a new species, and the oriental fragrances, sights and sounds held them in a strange thrall.

LIKE AN EXHIBIT.

The main hall of Masonic Temple looks more like a Chamber of Commerce exhibit than the meeting-room of a secret society. Fruits, wines, tobaccos, nuts and even confectioners' goods stand about on the tables, but the constant invitations to eat remind one that it is not merely an exhibit, but a general sample-room as well.

Plans are not made more than two days ahead at present. More trains are expected in today, and ample provision will be made for the entertainment of newly-arrived guests, but in the meantime those already here will go to Long Beach. During today they will be guests of the Shriners there, and a variety of entertainment has been prepared in their honor.

Tomorrow Venice will take a share in the entertaining.

A number of trains may come in today. It seems pretty certain that the train from Salina, Kan., which was scheduled to arrive yesterday, will really come in this forenoon. A large number of Shriners are expected on it, but the personnel of the company is a matter of mystery.

It is said that New York has a delegation on the road, and Boston as well.

It is rumored that the New Jersey contingent — yesterday's arrival—had some trouble with attempted graft on the part of high Shrine officials. Favors on a certain railway are said to lie at the bottom of it.

NOT OF COLLINS'S KIND.

The expressions of regret concerning the postponement of the Imperial Council session continue. There is no one man among those who have come in who has spoken in favor of Collins's view. On the contrary, many have expressed sentiments that are decidedly uncomplimentary to the highest official in the Shrine body.

One of the most forcible of these is John C. Groel, treasurer of Salaam Temple, Newark, and the only officer accompanying the New Jersey company.

"You can't comprehend the mismanagement, misrepresentation and generally awkward work that has characterized this thing," said Mr. Groel. "We sent telegrams, letters, and even long-distance telephone messages to influence the Imperial Potentate toward Los Angeles. We wrote to Boston, and we got in touch with the high officers generally. We used every endeavor to have the Council meet here, and yet out of all that confusion came the answer—our only answer—The session is postponed!' We can't understand it; we are sorry, just like the rest. So far as I know, the general sentiment of Shriners everywhere was for Los Angeles."

The Indiana representatives are of the same mind.

E. R. Parry, brother and partner of D. M. Parry, whose famous stand against labor tyranny has made his name a common word in every manufacturer's office in the United States, believes that Los Angeles, as a city, has suffered the worst insult ever offered by a fraternal body.

"There is no reason in the world," said he last evening, "why the Imperial Council should not be speeding here instead of waiting in ill-concealed impatience for that dry business at Chicago. The insult offered Los Angeles has been outrageous, and every Shriner feels embarrassed and humiliated on account of it. There was no reason for it—except that this fellow in Toronto got 'cold feet' for some cause about making the trip to California. We are sorry, and we can only offer Los Angeles our sympathy."

O. L. Wade, director of the Indianapolis Shrine, is even more pronouncedly against the Collins idea. Said he: "Every fellow in our vicinity was wild to go to California. In Ohio they were feeling the same way, and we were planning to make a huge, three-train special that would have been a record-breaker for size and enthusiasm.

"When the disaster happened in San Francisco we waited for a few days to give Los Angeles a chance to back out gracefully, if the occasion should demand it. We were tickled to death when we got Flint's message to come on. Some of us went to Cincinnati, and telegrams were flashed everywhere from our headquarters to encourage the proposition. When the edict of postponement came, the boys were fighting mad.

"There is no explaining it, back East. We feel humiliated over the insult that has been put upon Los Angeles by the Shrine as a body—an insult the Shrine is not responsible for. I cannot understand Collins's action. In my opinion there will be some talk explaining when the business session meets in Chicago."

Another member said: "Los Angeles has the sympathy of the entire Shrine body for this Canadian's action. His word does not represent the Shrine as a body, for the Shrine body most certainly wanted to come to Los Angeles. There will be a reckoning when the Imperial Council meets in Chicago. As far as his 'consensus of opinion' is concerned, that is all tommyrot—rubbish! The consensus of opinion was everywhere for Los Angeles."

ARIZONA.

MEXICO GOES AFTER YAQUIS.

GUERRILLA WARFARE TO BE DECLARED ON REDSKINS.

Two American Frontiersmen, Adventurers and Apache Fighters, Will Command Force of Hardy Scouts and Leather-Stocking Men Chosen for the Job.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

TUCSON (Ariz.) May 5.—From Guaymas comes a story that the Mexican government has started upon a new policy for hunting down the rebellious Yaquis. Dr. Lorenzo Boldo, a Californian, formerly of Tucson, has been given a commission as commander of an irregular force, to be composed of American adventurers and Oputa and Pima Indians. The lieutenants will be Americans, by name Hank Pollard, a former deputy sheriff in Nogales, and Samuel Hollenstein, an old Apache fighter and a man who saw experience in the insurgent army in Cuba.

Other Americans will be added to the strength of the command as additional Indians are recruited. Eventually it is proposed to have a force of about 800 men, who, in relatively small detachments, will hunt the Yaquis from their strongholds and will pursue guerrilla-like tactics till the hostiles shall have been worn out and will be content to surrender and join their brothers in Yucatan.

The new force will not be mounted and will have no quartermaster or commissary departments, subsisting itself upon the country of the enemy.

It is not intended that the regular Mexican troops shall be dispensed with, but they will be used to back up the work of the Indian scouts wherever deemed necessary.

The report lately published that the Yaquis are being supplied by Mormon colonists with arms and ammunition is energetically denied by members of the Mormon church. It is pointed out that the Mormon colonies in Northern Mexico exist only through grants of land and liberal concessions from the Mexican government and that it would be nothing short of suicide to make any sort of alliance with enemies of the government.

A dozen Yaquis lately were gathered in by Arizona rangers near Douglas, under suspicion of being hostile. It has developed that the Indians were laborers on a ranch near the border and that they had been scared into flight by a report from a passing Mormon that Mexican soldiers were on the way to gather them up and deport them. The Mormon has acknowledged that it was only a "joke," and now the owners of the ranch have sent to Douglas after the Indians, who are described as peaceable and industrious.

INDIAN KILLED.

To his love for liquor can be traced the death of a Cocopah Indian, near Yuma last Sunday. Some one had been supplying the redskins with whisky in large quantity. Officer Ygnacio Molina attempted to arrest a drunken convocation of Indians, but his quarry scattered. He pursued one who appeared to be the ringleader in the gang. The officer claims to have been shooting only into the air, but unfortunately, his foot slipped and a bullet went through the Indian's back and smashed a bottle of whisky he was hugging to his breast as he ran. The officer was exonerated.

TEACHERS FIGHT DUEL.

At Deming, in Southwestern New Mexico, last Saturday, two prominent educators broke the monotony of school teaching by a most interesting duel. As a result of the affair, U. Francis Duff, County School Superintendent of Luna county and principal of the High School, is dead, and his opponent, W. H. Dickey, superintendent of the Deming school, is lying badly wounded.

An ancient scandal regarding Prof. Duff had been revived of late, a revival charged by him to Dickey, whom he warned he would shoot on sight. When the two met, in front of the town postoffice, there were only two shots. Both men must have been in good practice with snap shooting, for Duff received a fatal wound through the head and Dickey one in the body.

It is stated that public sentiment generally sides with Dickey. It is added that both men were prominent in the work of the Presbyterian church and, likewise, were closely affiliated in the Masonic bodies.

ALONG THE TRAIL.

Eustorgio Moreno has drawn a fifteen years' penitentiary sentence from the District Court. He is the individual who, a couple of months ago, posed as a doctor of marvelous skill. His most potent medicine was secured by boiling up gold coin or jewelry, the gold to be furnished by his patients. Much gold was furnished for the purpose, but, somehow, was absorbed in the mystic operation.

A verdict of murder in the second degree has been found against Ramon Castro, who strangled his mistress to death at Silver Bell in January. An affecting address by the defendant's attorney is given as the only reason why the jury failed to find a hanging verdict.

By a cave-in at the Mina Cobre mine, at Silver Bell, Charles Jones and William Dougherty, both foremen, were badly, possibly fatally, injured.

The City Marshal has been making life most strenuous for the gamblers who have been defying the city's revenue laws. Gamblers and players alike have been arrested at the games and the plan of posting lookouts has proven ineffective protection to the gamblesome.

After a season of high water, believed to have come from Northern Arizona streams, the Colorado is falling at Yuma.

Twenty-two Russians of the Molokane sect have been added to the force of workers on the Laguna dam, above Yuma. They are from the southeastern corner of European Russia and their going was brought about through the conscription for the Japanese war, for peace is the foundation of the tenets of their religious belief. In one emigration were 1000 individuals of the faith. The Yuma contingent was brought from Los Angeles by W. E. Pearson. The men appear to be intelligent and industrious and state they expect to acquire land for farming, purchased from the results of their labors upon the irrigation works.

The managers of a New York trainload of Shriners, bound for Los Angeles, telegraphed to Yuma to have a band of Indians ready at that point to give an exhibition war dance while the train waited. The suggestion, somehow, was not greeted with pleasure by the Yumaites, who rather pride themselves upon their modern development.

A number of Southern Pacific conductors have resigned lately from the local divisions, following a close investigation of the personnel of the line.

Alexander Veitch, for years superintendent of mines for the Arizona Copper Company at Clifton, will leave soon for his old home in Scotland, his place being temporarily taken by James Colquhoun, general manager for the corporation.

Thomas D. Molloy has resigned as clerk of the District Court at Yuma and has been succeeded by Charles Utting, who has been secretary of the Territorial prison.

Cracked Wheat Bread

A Bread You Ought to Know About

Looks something like graham bread—this Cracked Wheat Bread that we are having such a demand for. The resemblance stops right there. This bread, as its name signifies, is made of cracked wheat. The whole life of the wheat goes into it—the covering of the kernel as well as the meat of it. That is why it is so wholesome—such a genuine food. Children thrive on it—and it's just as good for their elders. Comes in five and ten cent loaves.

Our Bakery Department turns out all kinds of bread—white, brown, graham—rolls, too—and snails, coffee cakes, etc. You can depend upon us as to the quality and purity of its every product.

last word of science has will only emphasize the fact that only God could create and command such a measureless universe. Each decade has widened and deepened that thought. Man is a religious being and with all his advancement he has never outgrown his heart. After all controversy, the Bible is still alive. The Lord Jesus stands preeminently unmatched—a model of human character. I would rather have been a minister of the Lord Jesus Christ than to have occupied the highest and most conspicuous position on earth with Him left out. To sum it all up, the Christ I have tried to preach to others has been and is, infinitely precious to me."

PLANS FOR CONGRESS.

The altar of the church had been especially and very beautifully decorated in honor of the anniversary occasion. Great white lilies and golden mustard made a delicate and effective setting. At the evening service Dr. Charles A. Blanchard, president of Wheaton College, Ill., preached. This is the college from which Dr. Day graduated forty years ago, when the father of Dr. Blanchard was at its head.

Presidents of the church work societies of all the Congregational churches in the city have been requested to meet at the First Congregational Church next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock to arrange for the entertainment of the Pacific Coast Congress which opens here next week.

At the Churches Yesterday.

Christ Church Anniversary.

YESTERDAY was the first anniversary of Rev. Baker P. Lee's rectorship over Christ Episcopal Church. He gave as a prelude to his sermon a brief review of the growth of the parish during the year. The following figures tell the story: There were 94 persons received into the church by baptism; the rector attended 36 funerals, only 4 of which were those of members; he solemnized 71 marriages; there were 257 persons confirmed in the classes; there were 159 members of the church received by transfer from other parishes, and 16 were given letter of demission; five of these were to other Episcopal churches in the city; a year ago there were 309 communicants on the rolls, now there are 1212.

This makes Christ the largest Episcopal church in membership west of Chicago; the average number of communicants at the monthly communion is 450; the Sunday-school has grown from 155 to 397 children who attend; the infant class has grown from 13 to 68, and the Bible class from a little handful of ten to 35; the average attendance at Sunday-school is 85 per cent.; lastly the men's club has increased in membership from 75 to 150; this organization is now trying to get a fine clubhouse built at a cost of $35,000 to furnish a home for young men of the parish; the new rectory has been built during the year at a cost of $12,000.

The rector read the following letter concerning the lepers of Hawaii who sent a liberal contribution to the destitute in San Francisco.

"We, the members of Christ Episcopal Church, in the city of Los Angeles, Cal., in congregation assembled, do on this sixth day of May, in the year of our Lord, 1906, send to our afflicted brethren of the leper colony on the Island of Molokai, our deepest sympathy in their isolation and suffering, but especially do we wish to express our unbounded admiration for and deepest appreciation of the spirit of brotherhood that inspired the sending of your gift to the stricken people of San Francisco, our sister city, in this their hour of need. We believe that this calamity has done more to demonstrate the brotherhood of man and deepen the neighborly sympathy of the human race, than any other calamity in all history, and we further believe that there has been no gift that has so touched the hearts and lives of the American people as has this widow's mite from our brethren on the Island of Molokai. This deed of yours will live forever and we take this, our only known way of showing our appreciation. We rejoice with you in the blessed fact of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man through Jesus Christ our Lord.

"Rector.
"Albert M. Stephens, George W. Parsons, wardens."

Mr. Lee asked for an approval of this letter by a rising vote of the congregation, an appeal to which all present gave ready response.

This parish will hold its annual parish meeting on Tuesday evening, May 8.

Statesmen and Christianity.

At the First Baptist Church yesterday morning, Rev. Stephen A. Northrop used as his subject "Statesmen and Christianity." This was a continuation of the series on Christianity, champion. He said in part:

"While we recognize the influence of great men in the civil, literary and ethical world, we should not be constrained to follow their advice or teachings without personal investigation of the principles they may champion. Especially is this true in the range of Christianity. The Hon. Abram S. Hewitt, ex-Mayor of New York, and one time United States Senator, once declared: 'I should have no faith in the religious spirit of any man who adopted the Christian religion because he found other persons doing so.'

"Twenty centuries ago the question was asked, as it is asked now: 'Have any of the chief rulers believed in Him?' As it was true then, it is true now more especially. I challenge any enemy of Christianity and its book, to call the roll among the great rulers of Christendom and tell us of one who is not a believer in Christ and the book. Name a single President of the United States who did not take the oath of allegiance to our government on an open Bible.

"Every President of the United States, save one, and he may have been a Christian, from Washington to Roosevelt, affirmed strongly in favor of the Christian faith, and many of them took active part in publishing documents in proof of Bible Christianity. Lincoln once said: 'The character of the Bible is easily established. We have to believe many things which we do not understand. The Bible is the only history that claims to be God's book and contains an immense amount of evidence as to its authenticity.'

"Harrison once said: 'That I am a firm believer in the divinity of Christ and the scriptures is no virtue of mine. I imbibed it at my mother's breast, and can no more divest myself from it than I can my own nature.' President Roosevelt has lifted up his voice scores of times in favor of the Christian religion. In an address before the American Bible Society he once declared: 'If we read the Bible aright, it teaches us to go forth and do the work of the Lord as we find it. Almost every public man of the past has based his life work largely upon the teaching of the holy scriptures. We plead for a closer, wider and deeper study of the word of God, so that we may become in fact as well as in theory "doers of the word, and not hearers only."'

"Verily it can be said of any man who has brain power to comprehend the essential truths of Christianity, there is no reason why he ought not to be a believer in the Christ of Calvary. As Bill Nye once said: 'The unbeliever who has no substitute to offer for a wholesome faith in our Savior, will be in the future, even more than he is today, the representative of chaos and oblivion, a destroyer without hope, an underwriter without indemnity, an ambulance with a loud sounding gong but no hospital.'"

The Master's Calling.

At the First Christian Church yesterday morning, Rev. A. C. Smither preached from the scripture, "The Master is here and calleth thee." He said, in part:

"It is a beautiful and fitting appellation that Jesus Christ should be called the Master. Few words are more accurately descriptive of His great mission. He was a master of matter. The water saw its Master and flashed into wine. The tossing sea of Galilee saw its Lord and reflected the peace of His soul. The fruitless thee hung its head in shame before its Master and perished. The earth shuddered at the death of its Master, while the sun veiled its face from the scene. He was Master of mind. He was the world's master thinker. He saw truth by intuition. The whole of it stretched out before Him for His comprehension and appropriation. All great thinkers have gathered their inspiration and power from Him. They but think His thought after Him and strive to interpret and apply His matchless teachings. He is the sun of the world's intellectual system. He was the Master in morals. He was the ideal and inspiration of all morality. His teaching was based upon eternal relations and the consequent obligations. The inspiration of morals with Him was low. Their basis was sonship of God, brotherhood to the race and found expression in the golden rule. In morals as elsewhere, Jesus was supreme, preeminent. He was Master of men. He put forth His invisible power and held men in His imperial sway, as the power of gravitation holds all things about a common center. The doubting Thomas, the practical James, the loving John, the impetuous Peter, the intellectual Paul, the reforming Luther, the thinking Calvin, the devout Wesley, the gifted Campbell, were mastered by His power. Most of the great souls since His day have been subservient to His will. This Master is here, marvelous as it may seem. He came to earth under the humblest conditions of life. He was arrayed in poverty, appareled in humility, clad in obscurity. No Master was ever so humble in beginnings. He came at great cost and sacrifice to himself, leaving the shining courts of glory that He might walk the valley of the world's sin and sorrow, and thus lift the world up to the light of divine truth and love. His pathway was one of pain, poverty and self-abnegation. He yet dwells among men. His incarnation is repeated in every regenerated son of heaven. His church is the robe of His earthly apparel. No more comforting thought can be found than that of the divine indwelling of man through His spirit.

"This Master calls for thee. This was the great end and purpose of His coming that He might call the souls of men into sonship to God, thta men's hearts might betransferred from things visible to things invisible, that they might cooperate with Him in the transformtaion of character into divine likeness, that they be fashioned in His image and carry out His eternal plans and purposes. This is a message of heaven to the wayward sons of earth. It is the call of our heavenly Father to the wayward prodigal in the fields of earth and time. Happy are they who hear this voice who respond to this loving invitation, who come into a share of the divine riches in that eternal world."

"Secret Sins."

"Secret Sins," was the subject of the sermon by the Rev. Frank DeWitt Talmage, D.D., in the First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning.

"Most men are born cowards. They were as babies, rocked in the cradle of fear. As boys, they always by night disliked to travel the road which leads to the bridge over which Tam O'Shanter was chased by the nobgoblins. 'Of course, we do not believe in ghosts,' once said a great English evangelist; 'but most of us feel squeamish when, alone, we have to walk past a silent country graveyard in the dark hours about midnight. And most of us are afraid of the valley of the shadow of death when, like the Psalmist of old, we look at it in the dim vista of the future, although like him we know it is nothing but a black shadow.' Of course there may be men born, like Horatio Nelson, who never know what the name of fear means. But if such men exist, they are very few and far between.

"More people die from fear than ever die from the ravages of disease. This assumption is almost a self-evident fact or an axiom. Now, as most of us are cowards in more ways than one, the greatest check on wrong-doing in this world is the fear of future punishment. The would-be murderer is afraid to shoot his victim, for fear he will be executed. The young clerk who is getting into the habit of betting upon the races, is afraid to risk any of his employer's money, for fear he will be found out and sent to jail. The women or the men who would like to violate the seventh commandment, often are afraid to do it for fear the newspaper reporters will get upon their track and the whole scandal will be published in the daily newspapers. But if a man could sin without being found out, or the sinner not be brought to judgment, then where there are now two sins there would be twenty.

"Now, as I was thinking along this line the other day, my eyes were scanning the Nineteenth Psalm of David. Suddenly my attention was attracted to these words. 'Our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.' 'What,' said I to myself, 'can it be that there are sins so secret, so completely hidden, that our most intimate friends do not know of them?' Sins that God knows and sees, and which our consciences convict us of. I do not now refer to the open sins, the faults that the world takes note of; but are there not others hidden away in the inmost recesses of the heart that will one day be set in the penetrating light of God's countenance? Let us examine ourselves this morning as in God's presence.'

"Let me in the first place, speak about the sin of robbing God of those hours of sacred devotion in which we should hold secret communion with God, those hours of secret prayer and Bible reading, which are so essential for our own spiritual life. In Matthew, we read, 'When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door pray to thy Father who is in secret, and thy Father who seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.' In other words, we want to try to do spiritual work and win spiritual conquests without first making the necessary spiritual preparation for our own souls.

"Next to our neglect of secret prayer and quiet Bible reading, I believe our greatest secret sin is our unwillingness to bravely and firmly go forth to advocate the causes of right which are on the unpopular side. We see blatant sins stalking around everywhere. But because those sins are well dressed, or the perpetrators of those sins are influential men and women in the community in which we live, we close our mouths and say nothing. We are afraid to antagonize them and those men and women who are their powerful supporters.

"The world looks upon you as an honest man. Are you honest? I mean in the higher sense of the word, are you honest with yourself? The city in which you live is in a death grapple with the saloon, or as is Los Angeles with an infamous gambling corporation. Dare you lift up your voice in protest? 'Oh, no,' you answer; 'if I did those men would boycott me, and they are my customers. They buy lots of goods at my store.' In your silence, are you not before God committing a secret sin? For years and years, in our Northern States, there were hundreds upon hundreds of ministers who were afraid to speak upon the slavery question, because if they did they knew they would split their congregations in twain. When my father, as a young man, was called to the city of Philadelphia, just before the war, the padlock of silence was upon many ministers' lips. After my father had been there a few weeks he preached an abolition sermon. That afternoon, thirty of his most prominent families took their hymn-books out of their racks and walked out of the church and never came back. Tell me, are you ready, like that to attack sin wherever you see it? Are you ready to denounce sin in high places, or in low? Are you ready to defy the sin of your friends, as well as the sin of your enemies? Or are you going to be numbered among the 'trimmers,' the hedgers, the politic men, who dare not be 'in the right with two or three?' If you do thus, the world may say you are honest, but in the sight of God, you are guilty of a black, heinous secret sin."

Hallelujah Gladness.

At the New Testament Church, Burbank Hall, yesterday morning, Rev. Joseph Smale, preached from Psalm 145:1-2, 'I will extol Thee, my God, O King; and I will bless Thy name forever and ever. Every day will I bless Thee; and I will praise Thy name forever and ever."

In the course of his sermon, he said: "No Chistian should go about with a long face. Every Christian should be happy, but no Christian may borrow his pleasures from the world, or induige the silly likeness of his own nature. There is a great gulf between Christian gladness and a worldly good time. Christianity is not illustrated by joviality, jesting, and the mirthful passing of time, by telling funny stories that are not true.

"A Christian's gladness is the joy of the Lord. He that is not content with that, needs to be born again. A Christian is one in whose mouth are the high praises of God. His gladness is hallelujah gladness—the very gladness of heaven.

"In praising God the soul ascribes to God, the soul's attitude is that of delight and love before God.

"Many are attempting to praise God today by organ, and choir, and minister. It was not so with David. He had his psaltery and harp, but they never took the place of the soul's exercise before God. He was a man who felt that the principal business of everybody in life is to praise the Lord. He indeed is reminding us of a great truth. All God's works shall praise Him, and His saints shall bless Him. Let us then be offering the sacrifice of devotion to God continually."

Dean J. J. Wilkins.

Dean J. J. Wilkins of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral preached in the morning a most impressive sermon on "The Prodigal Son," taking his text from the 15th chapter of St. Luke, as follows:

"I will arise and go to my Father and will say unto him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and before Thee and am no more worthy to be called thy son; make me as one of thy hired servants.'"

The dean pointedly delivered his marked expressions on the prodigal son's homage to his father's mansion after living a life of riotous, corrupt humiliation, in a far country, and the boy's fear of his father's unforgiveness for the willful wrong he had committed as a wicked spendthrift of the world's pleasure.

He said:

The preacher referred to our earthly forgetfuiness of God's love to His children, and His punishment as a warning, if we will not remember His truthful promises and believe that He is our Creator, and will, if we trust Him, forgive us if we openly acknowledge our wrong.

We are like the prodigal son in the far country; we forget Him, and how He suffered, and died for our sins, and it is sometimes only in sickness or calamity that we give thought to our Redeemer who is able to renew our love. For we know His love, therefore He is able and willing to reestablish our faith, if we will only love Him in the far-off country as children of God.

Let us be Christian in reality, not in profession only, even if we have been living in the far coutry, but in the fear and love of our Creator.

As He himself is the incarnation and there is no experience of pain, or misery, but what He has suffered for our sins.

If we throw away the Father's shelter we are living with Him no more.

But remember, dear friends, that all pain is gain. Under the Father's roof we pray in the Lord's prayer. Lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil.

THE NORTHWEST.

ECHO PARK is fast becoming one of the most attractive of the pleasure places of Los Angeles. Yesterday crowds thronged the walks around the lake, and all the boats were in commission. The attendance was a record breaker. It is expected that many of those who do not know the beauties of the place will be attracted this summer by the fine display of flowers and ornamental shrubbery and the boating facilities of the lake.

Work is progressing slowly on the children's playground south of Echo Park. The rains have delayed the grading of the filled surface, but with dry weather it is expected much will be accomplished with a larger force of men at work.

The Sunday-school of the Union-avenue Methodist Church will be quartered in the basement of the structure. The school has grown to such an extent that other accommodation was necessary. Several of the larger classes meet in the auditorium of the church.

The work of laying the sewers throughout the hill district is attended with much danger, and special precautions are taken against the recurrence of the disastrous cave-in which occurred the early part of the week. The sandy nature of the soil is responsible for much of the trouble.

THE SOUTHWEST.

Three wagonloads of provisions have been collected by the pupils of the Washington-street school during their systematic canvass of the neighborhood for supplies for the San Francisco sufferers. There are 600 pupils in the school, and each labored to provide articles of food, much of which has gone to refugees now in Los Angeles. Beside the food, a special collection at the school on Friday netted $12, given by the pupils.

Special interest is taken in basket-bayy by the girls of the Washington-street school. The team has thus far won every game and expects to enter the lists for the finals. Ethel Webb is captain and plays one of the forward positions; Mary Breen is the other forward; Berna Pursley is guard; Faith Guy, center, and Mabel Palmeter, guard.

The members of the S. M. Club were entertained on Saturday afternoon by Miss Helen McCutcheon of No. 1925 Bush street. Pink and white were used in the decorations and hand-painted sketches of pansies adorned the place cards.

In honor of Miss Cornelia Caldwell, a pretty luncheon was given Saturday by Mrs. Thomas E. Gibbon of No. 2272 Harvard boulevard. On the table was a handsome centerpiece of pink roses. Covers were laid for eleven.

Work on the crematory, at Sixteenth and Grover streets, is progressing. The exterior of the structure will be plain, but the grounds around the building will be carefully laid out with shrubs and ornamental trees. The opposition against the erection of the structure on the present site has apparently died out, and the residents in the vicinity have accepted its presence as a matter of course, and say they are disposed to make the best of the matter.

For the benefit of the athletic fund of the Washington-street school an interesting entertainment was given Wednesday afternoon. An amateur play, cleverly rendered, proved a pleasing feature of the entertainment, and $30 was realized. An athletic committee of five conducts the sports in which the pupils engage.

Anton J. Maerx of No. 1803 Vermont avenue has purchased the six-room cottage at No. 2209 Vermont avenue for a home. The price was $4000.

Dr. T. M. Ling of No. 2306 West Ninth street was tendered a birthday surprise party by members of his family on Friday evening. White carnations and ferns were used in the decorations. May baskets filled with flowers were given as favors. There were many guests.

Photographs of the San Francisco disaster, taken immediately after the fire had swept the city, will be shown free this evening in the auditorium of the Union Avenue Methodist Church, Union avenue and Court street. Slides have been prepared from the photographs by the pastor, Rev. H. W. White, and a stereopticon will be used.

BOYLE HEIGHTS.

Angeleno Council, No. 1708, Royal Arcanum, celebrated Friday evening in the Masonic Hall at East First and Cummings street. A programme consisting of light drama and stringed instrument selections was rendered, followed by dancing. The Juvenile Dramatic Club, composed of young people from the Griffin-avenue school, gave a drama, entitled "Tell Your Wife," in three acts. The members of this company are the Misses Hazel English, Harriet and Marguerite Nichols, Ruth Black, Messrs. Percy Eddy, Frank Eaton, Robert Lindsay, J. Velzy, Warren Eaton, assisted by Mrs. Robert Black, instructress. They have given a number of creditable performances in East Los Angeles. The Y.B.C. Mandolin Club of Boyle Heights provided good selections. The Mandolin Club is composed of Prof. Sheads, Angel, Hedges, Rodgers, Cleveland, Pettigrew, Gould and Kessler. Arcanum members in the city are invited to these functions.

Miss Rose Wersching, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wersching, and Theodore Froelinger were married Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, No. 539 Brittania street. The drawing-room, where the ceremony was performed, was decorated with carnations, asparagus plumosus and Easter lillies. Under a bell of white blossoms, pendent from an arch of ferns and greenery, the bridal couple stood. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine, trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of carnations. Miss Ethel Reese, who wore pink chiffon over silk, was maid of honor. John McCann was best man.

Pupils of the seventh grade of the Second-street school gave a surprise party Friday evening in honor of their teacher, Miss K. L. Madden, at her home, No. 101 Boyle avenue. Refreshments were served and music was provided.

UNIVERSITY.

The first of the College of Music recitals by the graduating members of the school, was given in the college chapel Thursday evening before a large and appreciative audience. Miss Hazel Hill rendered a programme very pleasing to lovers of instrumental music, and her performance deserves commendation. Miss Hill was assisted by Miss Isabel Curl, soprano, and Miss Eva Smith, reader.

John Adair, who has been visiting his parents at No. 940 West Thirty-eighth street, has returned to his business in Oregon.

Ex-Councilman W. F. Bowen has been confined to his bed the past week with a serious attack of grip.

John Morris has returned from San Francisco, where he was employed by the Southern Pacific, and will locate here, having been transferred to the local offices.

Miss Hiser of No. 1022 West Thirty-seventh street, is visiting friends in Ontario for a brief time.

Miss Mabel Hall of No. 1062 West Thirtieth street returned last week from an eastern visit.

Mrs. Ennis of Beaumont is the guest of Mrs. T. C. Baker of No. 1132 West Thirty-first street.

Mr. and Mrs. McNabb, who have been the guests of Mrs. Ennis Baker of West Thirty-seventh street, have returned to their home in Aurora, Mo.

South Gate Card Club will give a party this evening in its new hall, Thirty-third and Main street. Mrs. Lee Berden will be the reader, and Miss Grace Deering will be the vocal soloist. Mrs. George Hart will act as hostess.

Ainsworth K. Walters of Vancouver, B. C., is visiting his mother, Mrs. J. E. Walters, No. 949 West Thirty-eighth street.

Mrs. Frank Johnson of Riverside, a delegate to the P.E.O. convention, is the guest of Mrs. Edmiston, No. 1028 West Thirty-eighth street.

Mrs. J. F. Conray and daughters are spending a brief vacation at Arrowhead Hot Springs.

PICO HEIGHTS.

The mission organized by Christ Episcopal Church has secured for its meetinghouse the former Church of St. Thomas the Apostle, at Pico and Pedora streets. Dr. Gilmer, lay reader, will conduct a service on Sunday evening. Future plans of the Episcopalians of Pico Heights have as the basic idea the building of a handsome edifice.

William Kaftz, whose recent sad bereavement in the loss of his two sons by murder and suicide will be remembered, has left for Chicago for an indefinite stay.

S. A. King, the old man killed by a Pico car at Pico and Hobson streets on Tuesday, was buried on Thursday. Funeral services were conducted at the Congregational Church.

Mrs. A. J. McDonald and her two charming daughters have arrived from Chicago, and will reside on Vermont avenue, near Sixteenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Galkins and Miss Celia Westfall, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Barrows, No. 1404 New Hampshire street, have returned to their home in Waterloo, Iowa.

There is trouble in store for several small boys who create disturbances in the branch library. The boys practically take possession, and refuse to remove their hats or conform to the rules requiring silence. As a result of their unruly behavior patrons and others have been driven from the place. The police are on the lookout for the offenders.

A. C. Winters of No. 1239 Catalina street has gone on a business trip to the lumber regions of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Lott and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Krauss were guests of honor at a dinner party given by Mrs. D. M. Riordan, No. 942 South Burlington avenue, on Friday evening.

In honor of her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Mann, a party was given by Mrs. George W. Gregory of No. 1203 Berendo street. Mrs. Mann has gone to West Dover, Vt.

Mrs. A. L. Sturges of No. 2603 Pico street entertained on Monday evening in honor of Miss Alice Skinner, a bride-to-be, who will marry George Fifer, a former resident of Los Angeles in Illinois. Roses and carnations in abundance were used in the decorations, and solos and instrumental duets were rendered. Those present: George Hyser, Miss Susan Hyser, H. Skinner, M. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. George Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. George Klientz, J. E. Hunt, Cecil Loomis, George Hyser and Charles Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Fish of San Francisco are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Artzman of No. 1447 Bonnie Brae street. Mr. and Mrs. Fish came to Los Angeles a short time before the San Francisco disaster, and as a result of the havoc in the north have decided to make this city their home.

The northwest corner of Tenth and Bonnie Brae streets has been sold by John McWilliams to Miss Delia Gilman. The lot is 50x150 feet and the purchase price was $6750. The property will be improved with a six-room cottage.

GARVANZA.

Mrs. R. B. Ashley of No. 201 North Avenue 66 had as her guests Thursday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Louis Prang, Mrs. Olive Thorne Miller, Mrs. A. G. Smead, Miss Amelia Smead, Mrs. Chase Paxton, and Mrs. Rice.

The Garvanza Fortnightly Club will meet Thursday evening at the Fine Arts Building. Mrs. F. I. Wheat will write the club poem and Mrs. O. N. Williams will tell of her stay in London, comparing the customs of the people with those of this country.

Mrs. George W. Wilson and Mrs. N. Messer were at home to many friends Thursday afternoon at No. 615 North Avenue 66.

VERNON.

Relief work for the San Francisco sufferers has relegated practically everything else to a secondary place. The strenuous work of the past two weeks has been carried on with system, and much clothing, food and supplies of a general nature have been gathered and forwarded. All have been interested in this charity. Garments have been made, lunches put up, and a large relief work accomplished

There is still agitation for a public park in this district. The need is claimed to be great, and the site, which is desirable to many, is on Vernon avenue, near Central, where ten acres of level, fertile land can be secured. Rev. William Davies has been appointed by the Vernon Improvement Association as chairman of the Committee on Public Parks, and he, with many others, is of the opinion the city should purchase the property, and turn over the land to the citizens of Vernon for a park.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Painter of No. 522 East Jefferson street entertained with a house-warming on Thursday evening. Card games were played and handsome prizes awarded.

What promises to be an interesting entertainment is a May-pole dance, to be given by Lady West Hive, No. 56, L.O.T.M., on Wednesday night, in Akey's Hall. A May queen and four little maids will take the principal parts, and the chorus of thirty-three little girls is expected to be an interesting feature. There will also be several fancy drills and good music will be provided.

UNION SQUARE.

Mrs. F. T. Howland of No. 2252 Hobart boulevard gave a delightful children's party Saturday afternoon in celebration of the second birthday anniversary of her son, Adelbert Howland. The youthful guests were entertained with games and a Maypole after which refreshments were served in the dining-room, which was decorated in pink.

Miss Clara Heintz of No. 2345 Scarff street entertained with a linen shower and card party Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Louise Payne, who is to marry Dr. Frederick Langdon in June. The library, parlors and reception rooms were decorated with an artistic arrangement of wild mustard blossoms, and the dining-room was entirely in red. Suggestive of the nature of the affair the score cards were decorated with two tiny red hearts connected with a golden cord, and the words "hearts" and "trumps" appeared over ideal heads in either corner. A guessing contest followed the card games, tally being kept on cards bearing sketches of a bride and groom showered with rice. About twenty guests were present.

Young women of the S.M. Club enjoyed a card party at the home of Miss Helen McCutcheon of No. 1925 Bush street Saturday afternoon. Pink and white roses were used to decorate the rooms and the color scheme of pink and white was carried out even in details of the menu served. Scores for the games were kept on cards ornamented with hand-painted sketches of pansies in club colors, blue and white, and the prizes were two orange blossom spoons engraved with the club monogram, two Japanese cups and saucers. Those present were: Mmes. Walter J. Wren, Edward Graham, Roy Arnold, Cecelia Fuller and Misses Alice Atwell, Grace Allen, Bernice Burrows, Amy Burton, Alfreda and Alice Blanchard, Alma Bradley, Frances Crowder, Ethel Graham, Anna and Lydia Kellam, Lelia Morrison, Pearl Mesmer, Mabel Newsome, Lucille Roberts, Grace Rockwell, Ethel and May Rebman, Jessie Whitington, Marguerite Seymour, Burdetta Wilson, Florence Whelan and Mamie Young.

The Misses Lucy and Mary Clark entertained with a luncheon on Friday afternoon at their lovely home in St. James Park. The affair was given as a compliment to Miss Lois Chamberlain, who has just returned from an extended visit in Chicago and other eastern cities. Guests were members of the Phi Alpha Chi Sorority, to which Miss Chamberlain belongs. At the table, which was prettily decorated with pansies, covers were laid for Misses Helen Wells, Edith Herron, Gertrude King, Katherine Bashford and Isabel Vail of San Francisco.

Mrs. Thomas E. Gibbon of No. 2722 Howard boulevard was hostess at a charmingly appointed luncheon Saturday afternoon given in honor of Miss Cornelia Caldwell of Little Rock, Ark., who has recently come here to make her home. Besides the hostess and guest of honor there were present Mrs. Gilbert Brooks Perkins of Pasadena, Mrs. Walter Trask and Misses Annis Van Nuys, Louise Burke, Bess Miller, May Ridgeway, Eva Keating, Huston Bishop, Mary Clark and Helen Wells.

The many friends of Miss Hazel LaTouche, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. LaTouche of No. 2006 South Union avenue, were surprised to know of the engagement of Miss LaTouche to Colin Gair, a young business man of the city. The announcement was made at a party given Thursday evening by the Misses Marie Dyer and Pearl Pease at the home of the former, No. 1681 Church street. Guests at the affair were members of the "Las Amigas" Club and their friends.

Mrs. Ferd K. Rule of West Washington street left on Friday for Paso Robles, where she will remain a month. Mrs. Reel has been suffering from rheumatism and goes to gain relief.

Mrs. Joseph H. Bohm of No. 2225 West Adams street was hostess at a charming tea on Wednesday afternoon as a compliment to her sister, Miss Decatur Page, who has arrived from Memphis, Tenn., and who will reside permanently in the city. The reception halls and dining-room was beautifully decorated with a variety of roses and ferns. Mrs. Page was assisted in receiving by Mmes. A. C. Balch, Carl Adam, W. W. Lovett, Charles Barrington, W. B. Matthews, S. S. Salisbury, Fred Siebert, J. R. Westbrook, Willoughby Rodman, Cliff Page, Albert Crutcher and Misses Bessie and Minnie Bryant.

Chris Brown and wife, who have been the guests of Mrs. Charles Squires of No. 1200 West Twenty-fourth street left Tuesday for Las Vegas, Nev., where they will locate permanently.

An interesting entertainment was given Saturday evening in Henderson's Hall by the Norwood-street school Child Study Circle. B. R. Baumgardt showed stereopticon scenes of the San Francisco disaster. There was a large and appreciative audience.

Presiding Elder Atkinson occupied the pulpit in St. James's Methodist Church yesterday morning, the pastor, Rev. Robert L. Fisher, having been called elsewhere.

SICK ALL THE TIME

Until She Took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Has Been a Well Woman Ever Since.

"I suffered all the time, practically, from sickness of the stomach, dizziness or swimming in my head and pain in my back. Now I am entirely free from discomfort of that sort. I am not only able to keep on my feet, but to do my work as a teacher, and to enjoy the pleasures that come through the possession of good health."

That is the statement of Mrs. B. B. Ford, of Pushmataha, Miss., who continues as follows: "I am glad to tell others that my troubles were all remedied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are indeed a woman's friend. I heard of them first from an acquaintance in Arkansas who had found out their merits by actual use. What she said prompted me to try them in September of 1904, and within three weeks I experienced such relief that I knew that they must be adapted to the needs of my case. After using them for a short while longer I was thoroughly convinced of their helpfulness. I ceased to be an invalid, I became and have since remained a well woman, and the reason why is simply that I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

The pills which Mrs. Ford so justly praises cure the chief ailments of women by thoroughly renovating the blood. They make functional action regular and painless, banish headaches, languor, nervousness, create appetite, promote digestion, put color in the complexion, build up strength and in a word enable women to reach and maintain full physical perfection.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood and give strength and tone to every part of the body. They are sold by all druggists or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

How Consumption Is Cured

The Ballard method of consumption curing is a harmonious combination of all methods which have been definitely proven to be effectual in the treatment of pulmonary diseases. PURSUER FALLS, BURGLAR RUNS.

OTHERWISE LATTER MIGHT HAVE BULLET IN HIM.

Mrs. Jones Meets Him Face to Face in Kitchen—Over Hundred Dollars and Gold Watch Taken from Brahm Residence—Wagon and Valuable Rugs Gone from Stable.

Hearing suspicious noises back of the house at about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, Mrs. A. F. Jones of No. 1533 Ingraham street got up and went to the kitchen to investigate. Just as she entered a man opened the rear door and confronted her. For an instant the woman could not speak, but when she regained control of her voice she screamed for help, and the would-be burglar wheeled and ran through the back porch and down the steps.

Mrs. Jones's screams awoke her husband, who seized his revolver and rushed into the kitchen. "There he goes around the house," shouted Mrs. Jones, pointing out a side window, and Jones caught a glimpse of the burglar as he dashed by, running toward the front of the house.

In the hope of being able to stop him Jones ran toward the front door, but in the darkness stumbled over a rocking chair and sprawled full length on the floor of the sitting room. By the time he picked himself up and opened the front door the burglar was out of sight.

Mrs. Jones watched the man from the kitchen window and says that when he reached the front of the house he cut across the lawn of a neighbor and disappeared down the street. Jones returned to the house after exploring the immediate vicinity, and hastily dressing, tramped around the neighborhood for half an hour, but failed to find his man.

Investigation showed that the crook had placed a box under the window of the bedroom occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jones and had raised the lower sash about eight inches. He evidently became frightened when he found the window was just beside the bed, and decided to try the back door instead. He had tried to enter by way of the window in the full glare of an electric street light only 150 feet away.

The would-be plunderer is described by Mrs. Jones as a rather small man, wearing dark clothes and a dark cap pulled down over his eyes. She says he wore trousers' guards such as wheelmen have, and is of the opinion that he left his bicycle in the vicinity and rode away before her husband reached the street.

MAKES A RICH HAUL.

A burglar, presumably the same who attempted to "do" the Jones home, made a rich haul the same night at the residence of William Brahm, No. 1334 Ingraham street, just two blocks from where he made his first try.

The robber placed a box below a side window, raised the lower sash and crawled in. The family was asleep upstairs and undisturbed. He opened the doors and braced them, leaving two avenues of retreat in case it should be necessary for him to make a quick get-away.

After looking over the lower part of the house the burglar went upstairs and managed to take Mr. Brahm's trousers from under his pillow. Mr. Brahm cannot conceive how this was possible, but when he awoke yesterday morning the trousers were lying on the floor with the pockets turned inside out, and $119.80 and a fine watch gone.

Across the hall from this room Mr. Brahm's son sleeps, and the pockets of the latter's trousers were also rifled, the burglar securing $2.75. Nothing else in the house was missed.

The side window and both doors were still open when the family awoke and investigated.

GET VALUABLE RUGS.

Thieves broke into the Pico-street livery stable Saturday night and made off with a closed-front spring wagon. In the vehicle were a number of rugs, valued at $400.

MINOR BURGLARIES.

L. McNutt of No. 840 Commercial street reports that his room was entered Saturday night and a gold watch, chain and charm, together with a revolver, stolen.

The home of Mrs. W. A. Rogers, No. 125 South Avenue 18, was entered Saturday afternoon by a burglar, who secured a gold band ring and 30 cents.

BAD BOYS AT "CRAPS."

Officers Catch Unlucky Thirteen Gambling in a Box Car and Take Them Off to Jail.

With a boxcar as a trap two patrolmen caught thirteen boys in the Santa Fé freight yards yesterday afternoon shooting "craps," and the lads, each of whom is under 16 years of age, are now in jail.

These boys are old offenders and several of them have been under arrest and have served time in the Detention Home for various crimes. They are persistent "crap" shooters and their games have been broken up a number of times by the police.

Yesterday afternoon while patrolling his beat near the point where Ducommun street runs through the Santa Fé yards, a patrolman heard a noise in a box car which was standing on a siding. The officer made an investigation and discovered the thirteen boys in the car.

Seeing that his presence had not been discovered the policeman walked a hundred yards down the track and called another patrolman, and the two returned to the car, one on each side. Both doors were open and the game was watched until one of the youngsters spied the officers when instantly the heavy doors were closed and the crowd of "crap" shooters imprisoned.

The boys were kept in the car until the patrol wagon arrived when the doors were opened and the thirteen badly-frightened youngsters were taken out and sent to the Central Police Station. Six of them, A. Cook, F. Dix, Julian Gillett, E. Blocker, A. Guenther and Raymond Rivers, were sent to the Detention Home.

The remaining seven, who gave the names of E. J. Hemerity, John Falgado, William Mooney, Roy Rogers, N. Rustillos, A. Hudgens and George Loeb, were locked up in the City Jail and may have to stay there until the first legal day when they can be tried in the Police Court.

To find out for a certainty whether or not your heart is affected. One person in every has a weak heart; it may be you. If so, you should find it now, and save serious consequences. If you have short breath, fluttering, palpitation, hungry spells, hot flushes, you cannot lie on left side, you have fainting or smothering spells, pain around heart, in side and arms, your heart weak, and perhaps dropsy. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will relieve you. Try a bottle and see how quickly your condition will improve.

"About a year ago I wrote to Miles Medical Co., asking advice. I was suffering with heart trouble, had been for two years. Could not in my heart, back and left side, had not been able to draw a full breath for two years. Any little exertion would cause palpitation, and could not lie on my left side without suffering. They advised me to try Dr. Miles Heart Cure and Nervine, which I did with the result that I now enjoy better health than I ever expected, having gained 14 pounds since I commenced taking it. I took about fifteen bottles of the two medicines, and haven't been bothered with my heart since." MRS. LILLIE THORNE, Upper Sandusky, O.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

coming by way of Panama to San Francisco. They proceeded to Marysville and thence by stage to Strawberry Valley, by mule-back to American House and by sleigh to La Porte, riding over snow twelve feet deep in some places. There Mr. McCreery engaged in mining until 1869, when they came to Los Angeles to stay.

Yesterday hundreds of old friends and acquaintances called at the family residence on Hope street to extend their congratulations and good wishes to the comely couple, with whom time has dealt gently.

Standing in the deep alcove of the drawing-room, the bride of half a century, her handsome black gown brightened with touches of gold, stood beside her husband before a curtain of vines starred with great golden chrysanthemums. From the central chandelier hung a chime of golden bells, swung from yellow satin ribbons, and in the archway leading to the music-room beyond was another and yet larger chime. The piano was banked with exquisite floral pieces, the gifts of friends.

Nearly all the flowers were in gold or white—great golden-hearted lilies, yellow daisies and a mammoth bunch of fifty roses, one for each fragrant year, and with this love-token was a clever poem, engrossed on cardboard, which, in language full of rhythm and of sentiment, hit off the happy occasion to a charm. On a table were elegant gifts. Table ware in gold and beautiful gold-rimmed china, clocks, vases and crystal bowls etched in gold.

The scheme of decorations throughout the entire house was wholly in gold. Wild mustard waved in graceful profusion in the hall, and spicy acacia blossoms wreathed the doorways. Elaborate refreshments were served in the dining-rooms, where the same color scheme was carried out, the place cards being heart-shaped, etched with gold, the monogram set in a wreath of golden-ripe wheat and just beneath the dates "1856-1906." bound together with a garland of forget-me-nots. Above, and just within the golden rays of the setting sun, appeared the number of years, "50." These cards, as well as the elaborate gold and white decorations of the wedding cake, were designed by G. A. Melsing.

The three children of Mr. and Mrs. McCreery, Mrs. Nettie Bledsoe and Mrs. G. A. Simpson and S. R. McCreery, all reside in this city and, with their children, were present. The one great-grandchild of the family, who resides in Arizona, could not be present, but a telegram from the father brought greetings. It is a happy and singular fact that there has never yet been a death in the family of Mr. and Mrs. McCreery.

OLD COACH IN LINE.

Banning Stage That Did Duty in Early Days to Be a Feature of Fiesta Floral Parade.

That interesting old relic of early days, the Banning stage coach, that was run between Los Angeles and Wilmington, will be a striking feature of the floral parade of La Fiesta, on the 22d inst. Six horses will draw the old vehicle, and Capt. William Banning will hold the reins. Pretty women will ride on the box, and six white-clad children, sons and daughters of Edwin Neff and Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, will ride inside the coach. Members of the Floral Parade Committee will be outriders, dressed in white flannel suits and wearing pink ties and pink hat bands. White streamers will connect the outriders and the coach. This feature of the parade will not be entered for a prize.

Wives of the committeemen will be passengers on top of the coach. They will be gowned in white muslin, with white hats and white parasols, the latter bearing clusters of Duchess roses and being decorated with streamers.

Capt. Edward F. Gray has charge of the decoration of the coach, which is to be in white roses, outlined with green leaves.

In the automobile division one of the handsomest turnouts will be that of Walter Newhall and Miss Eva Keating. Alfred Solano has entered a victoria, and Harry Wyatt has followed in the same line. The plan of decoration of these two is a secret. The entries close next Saturday night.

PASSING OF PIONEER.

SANTA BARBARA, May 6.—Elijah Billington, an old and respected resident of this city, died at his home, No. 24 East Halsey street yesterday morning. He has been failing for several months and has been confined to his home for several weeks. Cancer was the cause of his death.

Mr. Billington was a native of Staffordshire, Eng., and was nearly 70 years of age. He had lived in this city for thirty-four years. He was an early resident of California, having crossed the plains in 1852. For several years he has been in charge of the Plaza del Mar, looking after the city's interests there and acting as a special officer.

Surviving are a widow and three sons, Grant Billington of Oakland, Frederick Billington of Los Angeles, and Charles Billington of Oakland; two daughters, Mrs. Claude Parker of Los Angeles, and Mrs. H. C. Crosier, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Wheeler of Oakland, and Mrs. W. H. Myers of this city. Funeral services will be held at the Billington home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Priest Called to Ireland.

Rev. Henry O'Reilly, priest in charge at the Mission San Gabriel, has started for Ireland to visit his brother, who is also a priest, and who is dangerously ill.

Postoffice Name Changed.

After prolonged effort on the part of citizens of Huntington Park they have succeeded in securing from the Postoffice Department a change of name for the postoffice at that town from La Park to the same name the town bears.

Tanner Reception Tonight.

A public reception will be given tonight in Elks' Hall, South Spring street, in honor of Commander-in-Chief Tanner of the Grand Army of the Republic. Today Corp. Tanner will visit the Soldiers' Home, and will address the veterans there this afternoon.

Mackay's Fancy Skating.

Stabbed in the Arm.

In a barroom quarrel E. Arias was stabbed in the arm Saturday night, and the man whom he accuses, Francisco Samalas, was locked up, charged with assault with a deadly weapon. The police say the men quarreled over a woman. Arias was taken to the Receiving Hospital.

Woodmen's New Home.

Eastlake Camp No. 530, Woodmen of the World, has signed a lease for a new lodge home to be built by Schleicher & Coleman on Pasadena avenue, near Daly street. The building will be erected at a cost of $15,000, and will be equipped as a first-class lodge hall, with storerooms on the first floor.

From Santa Barbara by Auto.

A gay automobile party made the run from the Hotel Potter in Santa Barbara to the Angelus in this city yesterday in A. C. Balch's big touring car. No attempt was made to break records, but good time was made. The party, now registered at the Angelus, include Mr. and Mrs. Balch and the Misses Ritta, Sara and Mabel Carr.

Sets Fire to Home.

A drunken Mexican set fire to the home of De Torres Gonzalez, No. 1018 Alhambra avenue, last evening, but the blaze was discovered and extinguished before damage was done. Neighbors saw the man apply the match to a pile of rags mixed with pieces of wood near the steps leading into the Gonzalez home, and gave the alarm. The Mexican escaped in the darkness. The police could obtain no description of the man, and as it was the act of a drunken man rather than an incendiary, the case was passed up.

Young Men's Institute.

A new council of the Young Men's Institute has been instituted in the Cathedral parish. It will be known as the Cathedral Council, and has fifty charter members. George F. Dexter is president; John J. O'Shea, vice-president; Clement Boiteux, second vice-president; J. P. McHale, recording secretary; George Moriarty, financial secretary; Joseph Deegan, treasurer; Thos. Whaling, marshal; Herbert Myer, inside sentinel; Wells Walley, outside sentinel; Rev. George Seubert, chaplain; W. J. Ford, Fred C. Walsh and George J. Quigley, Executive Committee.

Is She in Los Angeles?

A sad case growing out of the northern disaster is that of Mrs. Millie Hammond, who with her four-year-old son, Henry Clayton Hammond, has completely disappeared, according to an Associated Press dispatch from San Francisco. Mrs. Hammond and her son arrived in San Francisco from Eureka on the steamer Pomona April 30. She was in a highly nervous condition. It was her intention to go to Vallejo but she never arrived there, and it is thought she may have come to Los Angeles. Her sister, Mrs. T. A. Rigdon, No. 429 San Pablo avenue, Oakland, and Dr. J. W. Hammond of Byron are anxious for information.

Chinaman Hurt in Runaway.

A car of the Garvanza line bumped into a team driven by Luie Yen, a peddler, yesterday morning on Buena Vista street, and so terrified the horses that they could not be controlled, and dashed wildly down the street. At Buena Vista and Solano streets the team turned the corner and one of the wheels struck the curb. Yen was hurled to the ground. The injured Chinaman was picked up bleeding profusely and hurried to the Receiving Hospital, where the surgeons stitched a three-inch laceration in his forehead, and numerous smaller ones about the head and neck. After his wounds were dressed Yen was put to bed.

City and Soul.

The lecture before the Progressive Club in Blanchard Hall Sunday afternoon by Dr. J. E. Collinge, upon "The Soul of San Francisco in Her Downfall," was an eloquent tribute to the stricken city, and, a prophecy of what the new city will be that arises from the ashes, not from a material aspect, but from the viewpoint of the lecturer, of soul expression and soul manifestation. The rather unusual view of a city having a soul was elucidated by the argument that as each human being as an individual is but the expression and manifestation of that individual's soul, then the city, being but a collection of individuals, must have a collective soul. The collection was donated to the San Francisco relief fund.

COLD FACTS.

1. Los Angeles is more than 400 miles away from the scene of the disturbance which has laid San Francisco in ruins, partly by earthquake shock, but chiefly by fire. Only a slight tremor was felt in Los Angeles.

2. In all the history of Southern California, extending back to the days of the Franciscan Fathers, about a century and a half, there has not been a serious earthquake in this region.

3. Los Angeles and the country around about, within a radius of one hundred miles, while it has experienced some slight "temblors," has never had, within the knowledge of man, an earthquake shock strong enough to do any damage worth mentioning; hardly enough, in point of fact, "to move a brick" (unless, indeed, the brick were just ready to be toppled over.)

4. In the entire history of California, (and that of the whole Pacific Coast,) down to the day of the San Francisco catastrophe, less injury to property and less loss of life has been inflicted by earthquake than has often been caused by a single tornado in one of the Eastern States. And most of the damage in San Francisco was caused by fire, as noted above.

5. A disaster similar to that of San Francisco may never occur again in any part of the United States. It is as liable to occur in Boston, or New York, or Philadelphia, as on the Pacific Coast.

6. Far from being shaken or damaged by the San Francisco earthquake, Los Angeles was the first to send relief to the smitten city, sending carload after carload of supplies and thousands of dollars in money on the very day of the disaster.

[Readers of The Times wishing copies of the above statement to send East may obtain slips in any number at The Times office.]

With hundreds of big attractions surpassing any previous sale this store ever conducted. See yesterday's big advertisement.

The Following Circular Has Been Issued

THE CONNECTICUT FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

Hartford, Conn., April 23, 1906.

Dear Sir: At this writing no definite advices have been received from San Francisco and no close estimate of the loss can be made. Insurance offices have been demolished and records in the main probably destroyed. Estimating from data at the Home Office, however, and assuming the worst possible aspect of the case, we can assure you that The Connecticut is able and will promptly and fully meet all obligations in that stricken and devastated city and elsewhere. You need have no apprehension as to its present and continued solvency and success.

We are not disposed to minimize the magnitude and unspeakable horrors of this awful calamity, which has no parallel in the history of this country—save the sorrow and destruction of the Civil War—and has inflicted the greatest loss that has ever befallen insurance companies, yet we feel confident that final advices will show that the destruction of property and the insurance loss is not so great as has been reported.

Sincerely yours,
J. D. BROWNE, President.

"Just Over the Line from HIGH Rents and HIGH Prices"

Study These Low Prices

No need to go into a long story about low rents, small profits and big values. The prices here quoted demonstrate our ability to undersell any other house in the city. Put our values side by side, compare them—with any offered—we'll stand by your decision.

And remember! Every visitor has a chance to draw a valuable piece of furniture without paying a cent. If you're lucky you'll get something. Call for folder—"Free Furniture and How to Get It."

$5.00 Mission Rocker $3.50

The mission rocker, shown here, is made of solid oak. It has a broad slat back, is very handsomely finished and strong in construction. You'll pay at least $5 for it any place else. Some stores call it a $6.50 value. Our price is $3.50.

Axminster Carpet Sale

If you have any carpet needs make it a point to visit this store this week. We offer beautiful Axminster carpets at a discount of 15 per cent. to 25 per cent., and some special lines at 33 1-3 per cent. less than our regular low prices.

Child's Strong Crib $4.75

This is a very pretty iron crib—enameled in blue or white. It has a patent drop side and woven spring bottom. Unusual value at $4.75.

$4.50 for $5.75 Iron Bed

A full sized iron bed of artistic design, enameled in white. Very strong in construction and great value at regular price, $5.75. Our special price is $4.50.

$7.00 for $9.25 Iron Bed

This bed is particularly desirable. It is enameled in cream, with a delicate touch of gold trimming. It is pretty in design and of dependable quality; $9.25 grade $7.00.

Brass Bed Special

An exceptionally fine brass bed, has two-inch posts, with three vases and trimmings, bowed foot board. A beautiful piece of furniture and cannot be underpriced at $58.
